KASUMIGATA, Japan, May 22. (By the Associated Press.) This was a notable day for the American army aviators, who are circling the globe by air. Within 15 hours they drove down out of the clouds, windy north Pacific region, where storms and fogs have hampered their progress for days. Into a temperate climate, where they probably can make up some of the lost time. They made the first landing.

MAY ALTER STATE ROAD AT TYNGSBORO

State and county engineers are working on a road survey in Tynsboro which if accepted by the state will result in the elimination of the bad S curve on the state road just beyond the Tynsboro bridge. At present the road swings sharply to the west after leaving the bridge and then to the north on a substantial up-grade. The turn from west to north is more or less blind. There is a dirt road running from the bridge end parallel to the steam railroad tracks and connecting with the state road at the top of the hill just beyond the Tynsboro town. It is suggested by Mr. Barlow that the county and state engineers begin a survey of the dirt road to ascertain its possibilities as a part of the main highway.

SEES ANOTHER WORLD WAR

Dr. Sun Moved By Expressions of Sympathy From U. S. on Reported Death

Says China, Harassed by Other Nations, May Cause Another World War

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—The Public Ledger in a copyright dispatch today from Canton, China, quotes Dr. Sun Yat Sen, first president of the Chinese republic, as saying that he had been deeply moved by the expressions of sympathy emanating from America at the false reports of his death. He also said that China, harassed by other nations may cause another world war.

The Ledger correspondent said that he had talked for an hour with Dr. Sun at his headquarters and that later he had handed him a signed statement which read in part: "I declare that as long as foreign powers, including the American government, persist in recognition of the Wu Pei-fu clique as the Chinese government, there must be disorder and strife in China."

MILK QUALITY LITTLE LOWER

Decline is Seasonal and Expected, Inspector Masters Says in Interview

Department is Vigilant and is Watching Hundreds of Dispensers Closely

Lowell's milk supply is showing the usual seasonal lessening as to quality, according to Melvin Masters, milk inspector, interviewed this morning in his office at city hall. From the several hundred samples analyzed this month, he says it is evident that the quality of milk has receded slightly but added that this is usual at this time, when many farms change their cows from barn feeding to pasture grazing. The milk department is vigilant in watching that milk does not fall below the minimum standards and has notified several dealers and farmers that the last samples taken analyzed quite close to the line.

"We find but little trouble in having this corrected," said Mr. Masters. "The farmers for the most seem to realize that we want to do what is right by them and to have them do what is right by us."

He believes all of the provisions for reform of the tax system have been omitted and finds no justification for inclusion of such provisions as increased estate tax rates.

The secretary also feels that the sections making income tax returns available to certain committees of congress and opening to the public the proceedings of the board of tax review, will have harmful effects on business, leading to injury credit and disvalue trade secrets to competitors.

The estate tax rates as now carried by the bill are expected by treasury experts to result in lower production.

LINGUIST BRINGS SUIT AGAINST RAILROAD

A most unusual case in which Harris Bacon, an interpreter in many languages, seeks to recover $18,119 from the Boston & Maine railroad for services rendered as an employment agent, went to trial today in the jury-waived session of the superior court here before Judge McLean.

The plaintiff alleges in his declaration that he was hired by the Boston & Maine under an agreement for the purpose of engaging laborers to work on the road, with the stipulation that he should receive as compensation 15 cents per day per man for every day a man was so employed.

He states further that 19 laborers were so engaged by him and put to work by the railroad, but that he was discharged on September 27, 1923, whereas the 19 men were not discharged until December 14 and he seeks compensation at the 15-cent-per-day rate for the 66 days between the dates of Sept. 27 and Dec. 14, amounting to $18,119.

Fisher H. Pearson appears for the plaintiff, with Trull, Wier & O'Donnell for the railroad.

SEC. MELLON TO RECOMMEND VETO OF TAX BILL BY PRESIDENT

High Officials Declare Measure "Very Unsatisfactory" To Mr. Mellon, Who Views it As a "Most Unfortunate Piece of Legislation"

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Strong indications were given at the treasury today that Secretary Mellon will recommend a veto of the tax bill by the president when the measure is submitted to the treasury for consideration and review.

High officials declared the bill to be "very unsatisfactory" to Mr. Mellon and that the statement was made that he viewed it as a "most unfortunate piece of legislation." He believes all of the provisions for reform of the tax system have been omitted and finds no justification for inclusion of such provisions as increased estate tax rates.

The secretary also feels that the sections making income tax returns available to certain committees of congress and opening to the public the proceedings of the board of tax review, will have harmful effects on business, leading to injury credit and disvalue trade secrets to competitors.

UNLOOKED FOR EXPENSE! BROKE THROUGH GATES

Standardizing of Hose and Hydrant Couplings Will Cost Over $2000

Idea is All Right, But Not Required in This Section, Says Fire Chief

An additional and unexpected expense of between two and three thousand dollars will have to be sustained by the local fire department on account of a law passed by Governor Cuyler May 16, which provides that the hose couplings and hydrant nozzles in all cities and towns of the commonwealth must be threaded according to the national standard.

The purpose of the law is to make it possible for equipment from any city of the commonwealth to be of the right size and thread to be used in any other city or town, as is often necessary in cases of conflagrations. The general purpose of the law, according to Fire Chief Saunders, is good but in this case it is not.

CONCERT OF THE NORMAL SCHOOL GLEE CLUB

The Girls' glee club and orchestra of the State Normal school are to give their annual concert tomorrow evening in the Memorial Auditorium. They are to be assisted by Mr. David Blair McLosky, baritone, one of the leading soloists of Boston, and there are to be incidental solos by Miss Estelle Loran of Lowell and Miss Edna Lawrence of Andover.

This concert is likely to be remembered by the music lovers of the city because of the fact that Miss Loran Fieldham has developed a program which aims to present a series of outstanding compositions that are representative of various periods in the history of music. These cover the long stretch from the 13th century to the present time so that the program promises to be not only a delight to the lovers of music, but of extreme interest to music students. Much of the very old music proves to have a peculiar charm with fitting rhythms that haunt the mind.

The program opens with two folk-songs, one of Hungary and one of Casco, Slovakia. These are followed by a 13th century French dance-song, "Queen of April." There is little doubt that the beauty of these old music numbers will be a revelation to the

Beware of Constipation

Few people seem to realize the serious consequences that may arise from Constipation—the grave disorders that may set in if the bowels and kidneys do not regularly carry away all the waste matters and poisonous impurities from the body. If these noxious matters are permitted to accumulate, the whole system becomes poisoned.—Indigestion, Liver Trouble, Kidney Disorders, Rheumatism and more serious ailments result. Avoid such a condition. A 13th century English canon for equal voices will be given by three young women. The original drone of the bagpipe accompaniment will be supplied by the Glee club. This composition entitled "Summer is icumen in" is the oldest piece of this kind of writing known to exist in any country. Various other compositions will be given leading up to the cantata, "The Land of Heart's Desire," by Ethelbert Nevin, arranged by Deems Taylor. At his death, Mr. Nevin left an unfinished work known as "The Quest." This has been completed and arranged for women's voices with a baritone solo by Mr. Deems Taylor, the well known American composer and the music critic of the New York World. Mr. Randolph Hurley, the author of the text, came to Mr. Nevin with the first lyric, "The Maiden Sing at the Fountain-side." This lyric so captivated Mr. Nevin that the entire subsequent work was based upon it. The work was later orchestrated by Mr. Horatio Parker of Yale. Mr. McLosky will assist the Glee club in this number.

The concert is free and no tickets are required. It will begin promptly at 8.15 and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present.

SAYS AMERICANS

EAT TOO MUCH

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., May 22.—"Americans are guilty of two great dietary sins," Dr. G. V. Webster of Carthage, declared at the national convention of osteopaths here today.

"They eat too much, and they don't eat enough of foods rich in mineral bases," he added.

Dr. Webster laid the blame for this omission of a balanced diet to the manufacturer who refines foods too much, and to the housewife who throws away the coarser parts, to please the eye and tongue.

PAID $362,000 TO COAKLEY

Aged Man Says He Turned Over Amount for "Petting Party" in His Office

Detective Caught Him Embracing Woman—Went to Coakley to Fix Case

CAMBRIDGE, May 22.—Edmund H. Barbour, 55 years old, suffering from heart disease, infirm and able to see but a few feet in front of him, testified to the witness stand of the Middlesex superior court yesterday and testified that he had paid over to Daniel H. Coakley $362,000 in cash, bonds and stocks for a "petting party" which had been held in his office with a "Mrs. Daley," a Boston china merchant, told the court that he had never been the same since the occurrence, that his body became infirm and his mentality was shaken.

Coakley and William J. Corcoran, former district attorney of the county, went on trial yesterday on indictments for conspiracy to extort money from Barbour and others by means of threats between 1914 and the present time.

The incident, according to the witness, took place in 1916. Barbour said that he had known the "Mrs. Daley" for 10 years previous to that. One day in July, 1916, he testified, she came to his office for money. "While she was there," he said, "I embraced her and we had a petting party—just a petting party. Your honor, and nothing else." Suddenly the witness explained, he heard a noise over the transom and saw the head of a man, who claimed he was a policeman.

"I was excited, and didn't know what to do, but while the man was still in my office Mrs. Daley made the suggestion, which I accepted, to go and see Mr. Coakley, who would be able no doubt to straighten the matter out."

Barbour testified that when he reached Coakley's office only two hours later he found not only Mr. Coakley and "Mrs. Daley" there, but a man who said he was Mrs. Daley's husband. "I told Mr. Coakley the whole story, and he said that I should return at a later date and he would then be able to tell me more definitely what he could do for me," the witness added.

Barbour said that at the next conference Coakley told him that he (Coakley) had found out through Corcoran, who is now under a five-year sentence on other blackmail charges, that there was a certain man who had a grudge against him and had spent $5000 "to get the good of him." The witness said that when he offered to reimburse the mysterious sleuth for the money he had laid out, he was told by Coakley that he would have to pay $75,000, not $5000, to appease the unidentified detective.

Barbour testified that he paid this and thought the matter was closed, but several days later he got a bill from Coakley for $25,000 as counsel fee for Corcoran, who, it was allowed, had induced the mysterious man to take the $75,000. He questioned this bill, he said, but Coakley said it was "all right."

Several months later, according to the witness, the woman in the case, whom he referred to as a "Mrs. Daley," said that she wanted something for her injuries in the matter. Barbour testified that he at once went to Coakley.

"When I got through Coakley told me that it was a pretty serious matter and that I would have to give the woman money, too," he said. By the time that he got through paying "respectful but unidentified detectives," "lawyers" and the "injured woman," Barbour testified, he had expended $362,000. This sum, he said, he delivered to Coakley in cash, stocks and bonds.

INJUNCTION AGAINST UNION AGENTS

HAVERTHILL, May 22.—Judge Marcus Morton of the superior court, Boston, today granted the petition of Ethel M. Littlefield of this city, asking for a temporary injunction against Nora Greenishan and Eleanor Brown, agents of the Haverhill local No. 10, and Austin E. Gill and Edward A. Keville, general officers of the Shoe Workers Protective union, this city, restraining them from interfering with her employment at the Haverhill Contract Stitching and Repairing Co. The order of the court enjoining the union from any interference with the employment of the complainant by any means whatsoever, they may use with her employers. The complainant alleged that she had been employed for seven years by the union, being put out of the E. E. Miller shop and the Median shop before and that the shop she was now employed in was the last in which she could work without joining the union.

PAY SUPERINTENDENT OF SUNDAY SCHOOL

BOSTON, May 22.—The superintendent of a Sunday school should be a full fledged paid "director of religious education," a special committee on the relations of the church and the church school reported at the annual meeting of the Unitarian Sunday school society today. The report was presented by the chairman of the committee, Mrs. Arthur T. Brown of Waltham.

"The work is as important as that of the minister," the report said. "It is his business to guide all church people, both old and young, in programs of study and of service or in educational projects. A director of religious education would find fifty per cent. of Protestant children in our communities who are unchurched."

The report recommended that religious education should not be confined to the Sunday session and that the religious training of children should be directed only by expert educational supervisors.

Dr. William L. Lawrence, president of the society, said that something approaching scientific accuracy in the spiritual training of youth was needed. Dr. Kenneth Ballard Murdock of the department of English at Harvard university, told the Unitarian Historical society that both Increase Mather and Cotton Mather, the great Puritan preachers, were liberals in their day and not the types of intolerance, narrowness and bigotry painted by some historians. Cotton Mather more than two centuries ago, he said, tried to show that religion and science should be friends, while Increase Mather petitioned for the removal of the old religious tests for the franchise in Massachusetts.

ASK COOLIDGE TO VETO TAX REDUCTION BILL

NEW YORK, May 22.—President Coolidge has been called upon by the National Association of Manufacturers to veto the tax reduction measure now in conference between the house and senate if it carried the senate provisions for a curtail on undistributed corporate profits and a general inspection of income tax returns.

The manufacturers urged the presidential action in a resolution at the closing of their three day convention last night. Another resolution also expressed regret that congress has sought to bring about Japanese exclusion through legislation, among the other resolutions was one opposing a repeal of the present transportation act and another against an amendment to the constitution giving congress the authority to regulate the labor of persons under 18 years old.

At 12:20 p. m. they took the air again for the 250 mile hop to Kasungauru, where they arrived at 5:40 a. m. Originally it had been planned that the jump from Yatoru Island to the mainland of Japan and the further hop to Kasungauru should occupy successive days, but yesterday Lt. Lowell H. Smith, commanding the flight, advised American naval officers on the Ford that the aviators would try to do both today.

They made 701 miles in 12 hours and 50 minutes flying time. Present expectation is that the Americans will not continue their flight until Sunday or later. PRINCE OF WALES TO RIDE MEXICAN COW PONY

NEW YORK, May 22.—The Prince of Wales is to have an opportunity to test his ability as a horseman, astride a typical Mexican cow pony.

American "punchers" who are to participate in the rodeo at the British Empire exhibition in Wembley, England, have read of the prince's many mishaps while attempting to negotiate hedges and hurdles, and have decided to present him with one of their best mounts, according to Capt. Thomas R. Hickman of the Texas Rangers.

of revenue instead of an increase. They base this belief on indications that large fortunes will be distributed by their owners in advance of death and the government therefore will obtain little, if any, tax on that part of the estate remaining intact.

Because of the deficit that the treasury forces under the existing law, the secretary takes the position that the reduced income would require an entirely new fiscal program for the treasury. New funding arrangements for the present outstanding debt would be necessary in his opinion as well as increased issues of securities to take care of current requirements when receipts begin to come in under provisions of the bill.

Enactment of a law that would result in a treasury deficit even for one year is held by Mr. Mellon to be reversal of a well established national policy, certain to produce ill-effects on future fiscal programs.

Ready for Final Action
WASHINGTON, May 22.—The tax reduction bill was ready today for its final legislative action. The report on adjustment of difference between the senate and house, unanimously adopted yesterday by the conferees representing the two chambers.

bera went through the process of formal drafting today and Chairman Smoot of the finance committee expected to present it to the senate without delay. It was not considered likely, however, that the report would be taken up before tomorrow.

Although cutting taxes $172,620,000 or $100,000,000 below the estimated surplus available for tax reduction, republican leaders expect President Coolidge to look with favor on the bill in its present form, in view of the elimination of senate amendments providing for full publicity of tax returns and levies on undistributed corporation profits.

The income schedule proposed by Senator Simmons, North Carolina, ranking democrat on the senate finance committee, remains in the bill, but republican point out it varies little from the compromise offered by Mr. Longworth, republican leader in the house, on incomes above that amount.

and approved by that chamber. It calls for a maximum surtax rate of 10 per cent. applicable on incomes of $500,000 and over and normal rate of two per cent. on incomes of $4000; four per cent. on incomes between $4000 and $8000 and six per cent. on incomes above that amount.

WILL BROADCAST BIG AUTO RACE

For the first time in the history of radio, an automobile classic will be broadcast Memorial Day when the Indianapolis 500-mile speedway race will be sent over the air to listeners in all parts of the country by station WGN, Chicago. Tribune-Zenith broadcasting station located at the Edgewater Beach hotel, Chicago, on the shores of Lake Michigan.

The race is one of the greatest sporting events of the year and draws annually, the largest crowds assembled for any event in the United States. Last year more than 150,000 persons watched the speeding cars and this year the demand for tickets indicates an even greater attendance.

The Prest-O-Lite company which controls the exclusive broadcast privilege of the race, selected WGN as the station from which to transmit the race because of its location and its records for distance reception. WGN is sending its star announcer, A. W. "Son" Kaney to handle the broadcast. The technical details of the race will be given by a racing expert, provided by the Prest-O-Lite Co. R. H. G. Mathews, chief engineer of the Zenith radio corporation, will look after the installation and operation of the circuit by means of which the race will be carried to the Chicago station, on the Edgewater Beach hotel. The race will start promptly at 10 o'clock Central standard time, but since the half hour immediately preceding the race is one of the most colorful periods of the day, WGN will go on the air at 9.30 o'clock.

NEGOTIATIONS BREAK DOWN IN BERLIN

BERLIN, May 22.—(By the Associated Press) The negotiations between the middle parties and the German nationalists on the subject of the formation of a government have failed owing to the nationalists' insistence upon their right to appoint Admiral Von Flotz as the new chancellor.

The other parties refused to discuss a personal question of this nature until the policy of the future government was settled, whereupon the negotiations broke down.

NEW INVESTIGATION INTO KILLING OF ELWELL

NEW YORK, May 22.—Bernard M. Sandler, an attorney, will ask the district attorney this fall to undertake a new investigation into the killing of Joseph Elwell, bridge authority and man-about-town, on the strength of new evidence he has unearthed pointing to a man hitherto not mentioned in the case.

Mr. Sandler, as counsel for Miss Viola Kraus, whose name was mentioned in connection with the crime, said he had made a personal inquiry during the past year which has brought to light facts which will clear his client. He announced his intention until the policy of the future government was settled, whereupon the negotiations broke down.

25,000 ACRES IN WAR SWEEPED AREA RUINED

PARIS, May 22.—Not more than 25,000 acres of former arable land will have to be definitely abandoned in the war-swept district of the Somme, according to an official report made today. The original estimate was that nearly 75,000 acres had been left in such a condition after the war, that it would never be possible to cultivate it again. Only one village, Thiépval, will not be rebuilt, although it was at first thought that several villages would never be reconstructed. The owners of the abandoned land will be compensated by the government.

a complete mystery since its occurrence in June, 1920, in an apartment on West 70th street, owned by Sandler. An empty shell, a cigar stub and the fact that the whist expert had been host to a party including Miss Kraus the night before, were all the facts the authorities had to work on.

Mr. O'Dell's address, following his report of the administration of the National Editorial association, dwelt almost entirely with a defense of the dry laws and a plea for the retention of prohibitory statutes.

Interesting Talk On Constitution

 argument of government ever devised and most remarkable when it is considered that after trial for a span of 140 years it remains practically unchanged in material points.

The superintendent's address was intensely interesting and apt, inasmuch as it now is obligatory in Massachusetts, through the enactment of a state law, to teach the constitution in all elementary schools.

Mr. Molloy was presented by Miss Mary E. Tobin, president of the Teachers' organization and his address followed a brief business meeting which touched upon one or two things of interest to the teachers.

At the outset Mr. Molloy called attention to the time-worn and familiar declaration, "The majority rules." He maintained that it never has, it does not now and never will. With one or two exceptions, a handful of men have controlled the destinies of nations and except in the instances of the election to the presidency of Washington and Lincoln, the chief executive officers of the United States have been chosen by small groups of men in one or the other of the two principal political parties. The people simply elect the men chosen for them by a small minority, he declared.

"The ordinary schoolboy has an idea that the United States practically sprang into existence after the War of the Revolution," said Mr. Molloy, "but of course, we know this is not so and cannot possibly be true. In the 150-year period between the landing of the Pilgrims in 1620 and the year 1770, just before the Revolution, there grew up in our own New England a strong, resourceful, rich and cultivated society. Men grew to virile manhood here who were close students of the systems of government and many of the early colonies had model forms of government within their charters."

"The colonies were not wildernesses," he continued. "They were forward-looking communities, with men within them who were graduates of such universities as Harvard, Yale, Princeton and William and Mary. The men and women of that time were part of a world wide movement for universal freedom."

"As early as 1751, before the fall of Quebec, there had been a conference of northern colonists for the purpose of discussing encroachment from the north and the need of a union of colonies was then seen and discussed. It was at that time that Franklin gave to the mind the motto-'Unité ou Dé- claration of Rights. The War of the Revolution was of long duration, much longer than would have been the case if the government at the time had been similar in that respect to the time of the Civil War, or that of the years 1817 and 1819, for with a world wide movement for universal freedom, today in force, Washington would have been given men and money and the war would not have continued more than two years."

Mr. Molloy spoke of the chaotic condition that existed directly after the close of the Revolution and during a number of years thereafter. He called to mind that Franklin gave to the mind the motto-'Unité ou Dé- but said they do not compare with the dissatisfaction expressed in those early times. "In similar manner," he said, "the criticisms of presidents by partisan press during the past 20 years cannot begin to match in viciousness the things said about Washington and Lincoln, and so perhaps, things are not going quite so badly with us today as some persons would have us believe."

Coming down to the time of the Philadelphia constitutional convention, Mr. Molloy said it accomplished the greatest feat of civil government ever performed in modern times, and under tremendous handicaps and obstacles. The stage was set for a battle of conflicting opinions but compromise, wisely suggested and accepted, overcame all barriers. He spoke of the work accomplished at the convention by Alexander Hamilton of New York and James Madison of Virginia, although the former was checkmated consistently by two other New York delegates who did not believe in a union of states. Hamilton's work, however, for the most part was done after the constitution was framed, when he spent a great deal of time and energy in the dissemination of information which would lead the states to accept it.

The main fight at the convention was on only one item, the legislative phase of government and representation from states in the national congress. Here it was that compromise quelled threatened splits and was instrumental in saving the day.

"The most remarkable thing is that the constitution as written at that time has remained practically unchanged through all these years," declared Mr. Molloy. "As we read the varied news of today, in all its aspects, touching the political and economic sides of the life of the country, we shall most certainly be at sea unless we know more about the past and the marvelous accomplishments of the founders of the Union, who builded better than they knew."

This Will Make Many Women Think

Every woman realizes that the flavor and digestibility of her fried food depend on the fat she uses. For this reason, the modern housewife is anxious to know the source of the fat she uses, and how it is made.

This determination to know the facts is undoubtedly one of the main reasons for the tremendous popularity of Mazola for frying.

It is a pleasant thought, in the kitchen and at the table, to know that the source of Mazola is good and delicious to eat as Mazola itself.

If you like "corn-on-the-cob" you can't help liking Mazola. For this pure cooking and salad oil is made from the hearts of full-ripened corn—America's Greatest Cereal.

This is why Mazola is known as the absolutely pure vegetable oil—from an edible source. And it is made right in the heart of the big corn belt of the United States, in a clean, sanitary, modern plant. Every can is sealed tight—and you, the consumer, are the first person to touch its contents.

Mazola is not a grease—but a wholesome, easily digested fat. That is why Mazola-fried foods are easy to digest—and free from grease.

Many mothers, realizing the health and food value of Mazola, give a spoonful or two to their growing children.

When you think of frying, think of Mazola—use it once and you will never go back to the old-fashioned, greasy methods of frying.

A PLEASANT THOUGHT

"Mazola is as delicious and good to eat as the corn from which it comes."

The makers of this famous toweling are urging women to wash Boott towels in Rinso because it keeps them bright—white, soft and absorbent

The makers of Boott Toweling urge women to wash their Boott Towels with Rinso

"The washings done with Rinso were a revelation.

"The work of washing was cut almost in half, there was scarcely any rubbing and the towels came out as white as though new off the bolt.

"We gave them a good trial, too. We took very soiled towels and gave them many washings. The strength of our fine quality cotton yarn was not lessened by these washings, and the finish of the towels was just as beautiful as it was before laundering."

Fresh clean towels without hard rubbing

Dissolve Rinso in boiling water. It swishes up into a wonderful soap solution—a rich soapy suds.

Pour this into your tub and let your towels soak in these cleansing suds. This soaking takes the place of rubbing. The loosened dirt flushes right off in the rinsing.

If your towels are very grimy from the children's hands or from hands that have cleaned the car, after soaking you will want to sprinkle a little dry Rinso on the worst places and rub them lightly between your hands. Then even this dirt will come out with only a light rubbing.

Use the wonderful Rinso soap-suds in your tubs, boiler, or washing machine in the ordinary way. Always use enough Rinso to get big lasting suds after the clothes are put in. You'll find it ideal for all the family wash.

Because Rinso is all dissolved it rinses out thoroughly leaving no bits of soap sticking to garments to turn them yellow under the iron.

Even the dirt they actually rub into the towels is gently loosened in the rich Rinso soap-suds.

Made by the makers of Lux

The largest soap-makers in the world—the makers of Lux—make Rinso. It does the regular family wash as perfectly as Lux does all fine things. Try Rinso yourself. Get the regular size or big new package—at all grocers. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

RENDIGS FACES 20-YEAR GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF TERM IN SING SING PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

NEW YORK, May 22.—Charles W. Rendigs today faces a possible term of 20 years in Sing Sing prison as a result of his conviction by a jury last night of perjury in connection with statements he made during examination of his qualification to sit as a juror in the Edward M. Fuller racket shop case.

SAYS POLITICS BEHIND FALL OF FRANC

PARIS, May 22 (by the Associated Press).—The campaign against France is an underhanded maneuver of domestic politics, declares Edouard Herriot, potential premier of France, under the new coalition of the left, in a signed article published in L'Espresso. AMUSEMENT NOTES

RIALTO THEATRE
In a season notable for the number of spectacular pictures produced by William Fox, it is safe to presume that no offering contains such a remarkable scene as "The Blizzard" in its presentation of a reindeer herd and stampede. This picture which comes to Lowell today, where it is playing first run at the Rialto theatre, is the story of Selma Lagerlof, who won the Nobel prize for literature.

The reindeer stampede scene was caught by a scientific expedition and because it is particularly revealed in a scene in the novel, was used in the picture. Thousands of reindeer are shown crossing the white wastes, the leader striding gingerly into an icy river, then striking out with a vast herd following him in a weaving, straggling mass to the opposite shore. Then, terrified by the blizzard, they break and run. Mary Johnson, the European Mary Pickford, has the leading role.

Aside from the beautiful romance and the actual beauty of the story, there is also to be seen some of the most wonderful photography ever filmed. Camera work and Robert Rosowitch, who "shot" the stampede were in danger of their lives a dozen times. It really is an exceptional piece of work.

The National Board of Review has rated the picture among the first of the year and paid particular tribute to the scene of the reindeer stampede.

"The Fifth Round of U. C. Wittwer's 'Fighting Blood,' a fighting classic, is also on the bill and is a knockout. It has everything—Comedy, romance, action and a little drama, just enough to thrill you a little. Other pictures on the program include "The Old Sea Dog," a Sam Pollard comedy, the latest chapter of "Haunted Valley" with Ruth Roland and a new issue of Fox News.

MEETINGS SQUARE

"The Man Life Passed By," the new Metro production, which has just opened an engagement at the Merrimack Square theatre, reveals itself as an intriguing photoplay bound to please every fan. It tells a dramatic story and is rich in elements of popular appeal. It seeks merely to be entertaining and succeeds admirably. The story tells of a man who finally rises triumphant over misfortunes that nearly drove him mad. The excellent cast includes Percy Marmont, hero of "If Winter Comes," Jane Knott, Ruth Roland, Cullen Landis, Lydia Knott and Robert Rosowitch.

A REMEDY FOR NEURASTHENIA

This Pawtucket Man Suffered for Years and Recommends Successful Treatment

"My nerves were completely shattered," says Mr. Edmund Smith, of No. 128 North Main street, Pawtucket, R. I., "and I suffered for several years from neurasthenia. I had nervous headaches which were so severe that I would have to go to bed for hours. I was dizzy and faint at times. Spells would come on me as I was walking to work when I would feel as though I were sinking. Once I actually fell down. I had no appetite and food was repulsive to me.

"I tried all kinds of treatments but never received any benefit until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I read about in a newspaper. After the first box I noticed that my nerves were quieter and I had some appetite. I began to get my strength back after the second box and was not so exhausted at the end of a day's work. They continued to benefit me right along and I believe they are the best remedy for such a nervous condition as I have described."

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, sixty cents per box, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write for free booklet on nervous disorders which contains a chapter on the treatment of neurasthenia.—Adv.

BANDIT ROBS SAFE

Awakened Woman With Flashlight in Her Bedroom And Took $1815

NEWARK, N. J., May 22—An armed bandit awakened Mrs. Margaret Holden, 67, with a flashlight in her bedroom early today, ordered her to silence, and backed her through a door to the dining room, and escaped, taking with him $1815 in cash and jewelry from a safe.

The German super-gun that pounded Paris during the war is credited with a range of 75 miles, as compared with the 22-mile maximum range of American 14-inch naval guns.

WOMAN AILING FOR A YEAR

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Happy Results

Newcastle, Pa.—"I was all run-down and everybody thought I was going into a decline. I had been ailing for a year with pains in my right side so that I could hardly stand on my feet. When I walked I felt as if something was falling. I was not able to do any work and had a nurse most of the time. She spoke to me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I gave it a fair trial. Some women think one bottle should cure them, but I did not stop at that. I took more and got better and am able ever since to do my own housework. There was a time, when I would complain of not feeling well, that my husband would say, 'Go to the doctor.' But now he will tell me to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's, and it has always helped me. I have had druggists call or write, I will be glad to tell her how it helped me."—Mrs. MABEL LIST SHERRARD, 515 Nowell Ave., Newcastle, Pa.

POPPY DAY FOR FOREIGN WAR VETS SATURDAY

"Buddy Poppy Day" Saturday next. In many cities and towns all over the United States and the island possessions, poppies, emblems of glorious deeds in the World War, are to be sold in public thoroughfares all day, May 24, to aid the relief and welfare enterprises of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Active members of the Lowell branch organization, Walker-Rogers post No. 662, V. of F.W., have full charge of the relief drive here. Its proximity to Memorial day is intentional and offers to the people of Lowell and vicinity an opportunity to express their gratitude for the soldiers who fought and sacrificed in the great struggle to save the world.

All funds collected through public channels of giving goes to the relief of disabled veterans, whether members of the various veteran organizations or not. The post invites girls over 16 years of age, having an interest in the welfare of the American war veterans, to report at Memorial hall, City library building, at 7 a.m. or soon afterward, on Saturday, May 24, to receive poppies and boxes. Carroll L. D'Angelo is chairman of the poppy day committee here.

The slogan for "Buddy Poppy Day" Saturday, under which the veterans of Walker-Rogers post No. 662 are working in the cause of fund-collecting for well-organized relief work, is: "Honor the Dead by Helping the Living—Buy and Wear a V.F.W. Poppy on Memorial Day."

The Flanders poppy is now recognized as the memorial flower in the United States by the American War Mothers, Daughters of the Revolution, Sons of the G.A.R., Daughters of the Sons of the G.A.R., Ladies' auxiliary of the G.A.R., Women's Relief corps, American Legion, American Legion auxiliary. In England, the British Legion adopted the poppy as its memorial flower emblem. In Canada, the Disabled Soldiers' association and the Great War Veterans' association is in line. Returned Sailors and Soldiers' Imperial league in Australia and New Zealand also have the poppy for emblematic rituals.

DECLARES COUNCIL CANNOT UNFROCK HIM

National Herald, a Greek newspaper published in the United States in the interests of the Greek-speaking race, announces that Metropolitan Vassilios, head of the metropolis of the United States and Canada, and whose headquarters are in this city, has been unfrocked by the council of archbishops of the patriarchate of Constantinople. The metropolitan is reported by the council to have removed from Greece without explaining his action to the patriarchate. He, however, declares that he resigned and that, therefore, the council cannot unfrock him.

Metropolitan Vassilios is no longer under the jurisdiction of the Constantinople patriarchate, being now the absolute head of the Greek Orthodox church organizations in this country and Canada and subject to no dictates from other religious organization officials.

INDOOR CHAUTAUQUA IN CHURCH VESTRY

An excellent "Indoor Chautauqua" was last night presented in the vestry of First Presbyterian church by the delegates' alumni to the summer conference held in New York state each year. Variety featured the entertainment, which followed closely programs familiar to Chautauquans of the national circuit.

Among last night's entertainers were Miss Margaret McKoon, vocalist; Miss Isabel Gregory, pianist; Miss Catherine Graham, reader, and Waldo Murphy, violinist. Pantomimes were also given in a pleasing way, Hilding Ekenberg drew cartoons, and there was "jubilant" singing in chorus, the songsters being Esther Gray, Mae Gray, Jeanne MacFadyen, Jessie MacFadyen, Solie Silk, Bessie Scott, Elizabeth Hanson, Douglas Burns, Edith Goddes, Arthur Clayton and Fred Forrester.

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

Marcino, who is serving a term in the Atlanta federal penitentiary for wrecking the Warren National bank, seeking to avoid trial of Marcino on Worcester county indictments for the bank case. The court ordered Marcino to be placed on trial with Frank L. Taylor and Abraham Goldman who were indicted with him by the Worcester county grand jury. 20 P. C. REDUCTION IN HAVERHILL SHOE SHOPS

HAVERHILL, May 21.—A net reduction of 20 per cent, effective in all McKay factories is granted in decisions released today, by the Haverhill shoe board of arbitration. The decisions are the second important group rendered by the board in a general wage adjustment.

The wage differential in the McKay cutting and stitching departments is very similar to the awards made by the board governing turn shoe factories and are dependent on these previous awards.

The McKay business in the local shoe district represents about 25 per cent, of the total business, and second to turn shoe production.

The wage readjustment is now nearly complete. Certain readjustments involving well prices are still to be considered but the number of firms producing well shoes is small and the readjustment will be considered with reference to individual plants.

The prices in the McKay factories announced today become operative at the beginning of the next payroll week.

NO DECISION ON WORLD COURT PROPOSALS

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The senate foreign relations committee devoted two hours today to a general discussion of world court proposals, but adjourned until tomorrow without having reached a decision on any important point.

An effort to obtain the committee's immediate endorsement for the proposal of Presidents Harding and Coolidge for membership in the present court, with reservations, resulted in failure.

None of those present would venture more than "a hope" of early action on any of the plans now pending.

HOW TO COMPUTE VALUE OF POLICY

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Veterans Bureau actuaries informed members of congress today for the first time that the list of "factors" prepared by them and recently made public for computing the amounts of insurance due under the bonus law look into account the extra 25 per cent of adjusted service compensation allowed by the bill on insurance certificates. This means that a veteran in computing the value of the insurance policy he will receive simply will multiply his credits at $12.50 a day for foreign service and $10.00 a day for home service by his factor. The extra 25 cents is not to be added as heretofore announced.

MASSACHUSETTS MILLS CLOSE UNTIL JUNE 1

Massachusetts cotton mills closed down the entire Lowell plant yesterday, not to re-open for production until Monday, June 1.

Agent Paul Read stated that general stagnant business in textile quarters in all sections of the country, were responsible for the temporary shut-down of operations at the Massachusetts.

The corporation has been operating during the last two months or more, three days each week on a few of its regular lines. Demands for flannels and blankets have been slowing up for some time past, with the result that manufacturers of these lines of textiles have been forced to curtail production heavily and, in some sections of the country to cease operations altogether.

Mr. Read told The Sun that no changes in production of regular staples or machinery equipment are contemplated, as some reports have had it in textile gossip circles. Nearly all mills turning out goods similar to the Massachusetts brands, are playing a waiting game, hoping for the best.

Saco-Lowell shops will close two weeks in July, in line with the recently established policy of the company to provide vacations for employees.

RACES AT GOLDEN COVE ON MEMORIAL DAY

Tuesday night's meeting of the Lowell Driving club was given up largely to a discussion of ways and means to put the track at Golden Cove in the best possible condition for the Memorial day races. Already a great deal has been done on the track and in order to make every part of it fast and springy, more riders were ordered for it and a truck and several men engaged to get it in shape for the two steam rollers that are to be used in the last two days of the week. By Monday the track should be in the best condition it ever has been, and the local horse owners are looking forward to some fast brushes in the near future.

For the races several out-of-town horses are already entered and when the entries close Monday night it is expected that the card will have filled well enough to give the horse racing fans of this section expectations of real classy racing on the 30th.

CHARGES ACCOUNT USED AS "SLUSH FUND"

WASHINGTON, May 21.—An account maintained by former Chairman Charles E. Lobdell of the farm loan board in a local bank, was used "at times" as a slush fund, Senator Howell, Nebraska, charged in the senate in continuing his opposition to the confirmation of four pending nominations to the board.

Senator Howell explained that by a slush fund he meant "a fund used to grease the wheels so as to smooth things; a fund expended when you wanted to be generous with those who could be helpful to your objects."

"This fund was so used at times," he said, "I hold such action should be severely condemned when taken by any government instrumentality."

The high mass of requiem was celebrated by the pastor of the church, the Rev. William B. Farrell. Eight of Mrs. Smith's 10 grandsons were pallbearers.

MOTION TO REPORT FORD BILL LOST

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A motion to report the Ford bill providing for leasing of Muscle Shoals was lost by a vote of 10 to 8 today, in the senate agricultural committee.

A FINANCIAL SQUABBLE ARISES OVER THE MAJOR'S COMMISSION

AD CLUB TOLD MILLS MUST TRADE-MARK AND ADVERTISE GOODS

Purchasing Public Favors Quality Goods of Known Reputation Regardless of Price, Says John J. Morgan—Retiring President Cooney Presented Watch

The cotton goods mills of Lowell and New England will sooner or later learn that the road to prosperity is by proper exploitation through advertising of their trade-mark goods of quality. The American public, it has long been proven, does not consider price. The cotton goods mills of New England need more outgrowing optimism and less increasing conservatism," he added. Mr. Morgan said he is convinced that the mills of New England should retail their output direct through mail orders and chain stores and cut down the present cost-raising system of distribution under which many commissions are claimed on every piece of cotton goods before it reaches the ultimate consumer. The speaker cited the success of the Wamsutta Mills in New Bedford in keeping their sheetings in the foreground through an educational advertising campaign and said local mill treasurers might well fear a loss from the book of Treasurer Charles Broughton of the Wamsutta in this respect.

Watch Given Mr. Cooney
Last night's session was the most enthusiastic and best attended meeting since the opening dinner, the banner event of every year. The new officers of the association and club took over the reins at last night's session and every individual acquainted well for a most successful administration. The new officers are: Thomas R. Atkinson, president; John W. Daly, vice president; Frank Ricard, treasurer; and Miss Irene Matthews, secretary. Edward J. Cooney, the retiring president, was presented a valuable watch as a token of esteem and appreciation for his services. Mr. Cooney was so graciously overcome that in response his speech did not come as freely as usual. The presentation was made by Treasurer John W. Daly, vice president of the organization and an intimate friend of the retiring president. Mr. Daly lauded the service record of Mr. Cooney.

OFFICER QUALIFIES AS SPEED MERCHANT
Police Officer Charles J. Barry qualified as a speed merchant early this morning when he gave chase and captured Peter S. Marshall, 22, and booked him at the station as a suspicious person. After an exciting pursuit over a course which took in Bridge, Amory, John, French, Kirk and Lee streets. The capture of Marshall eventuated in changing the charge of "suspicious person" to one of larceny, when George Norris, a corner at 84 Bridge street, appeared in the court room late after Marshall's apprehension and charged him with the theft of $40. A plea of not guilty to this complaint was entered this morning, and the case continued to next Monday, with bonds set at $200.

The miniature marathon started at 2:30 a. m. when Officer Barry's attention was attracted to a man making a hasty exit from the Sirk block in Bridge street. The fleeing individual banged the door of the block and crashed through plate glass. Sighting Marshall as he rounded the corner of French street, the officer gave chase, following the fugitive through Amory, Lee, Kirk and back to John street, where the catch was made. As Marshall could give no reasonable explanation for his runaway, Officer Barry locked him up as a suspicious person. About 2:15 a. m. George Norris put in an appearance headquarters with the information that he had been robbed of two $20 bills while preparing to go to bed. His description of the alleged thief corresponded with Marshall, and the latter was brought out for identification. He was immediately recognized by Norris, who said Marshall snatched the bills from his bed just as he had undressed and was about to retire. He added that he had been in Marshall's company since 10 o'clock the night before and did not suspect him of thievery when he showed him the two bills. At the police station, Officers Thomas Riley and Charles Sharkey searched defendant, but failed to find any money.

PUBLIC SALE—97,109 SQUARE FEET
ON MIDDLESEX STREET AND MIDDLESEX PARK, A PART OF THE CORTKIAN CARPET COMPANY TRACT, TO BE SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION ON NEXT SATURDAY, MAY 24TH, 1924, AT 4 O'CLOCK P. M. The remaining real estate holdings of the Cortkian Carpet Co. in Lowell, consisting of two building lots, containing 97,109 square feet with frame barn thereon, being Lot 3 on double lot situated on Middlesex street, between Nos. 1253 and 1255 on the street, and 2,828 square feet, being Lot 2 on said plan, situated in Middlesex Park, next to No. 35 on the street, is hereby pledged to the highest bona fide bidder, at absolute and unrestricted public sale; both lots are to be sold as one parcel. The Middlesex street lot has a frontage of 181.10 feet on the street, thus making it of great value for development. It is located within a step of the John C. Meyer Co.'s Eastern Massachusetts (U. S. Railway) car barns, the new roundhouse of the B. & M. R. R., comfortable walking distance of the Bay State Cotton Center, the Saco-Lowell Foundry, the Lyon Carpet Co., and numerous other manufacturing industries, also within a short drive of the great real estate development now in progress throughout the Highland section of the city. The lot with its area and splendid frontage has most unusual advantages for the real estate operator, the opportunity to sub-divide into home plots, or develop as a modern manufacturing site owing to its accessibility to the main line of the Southern Division of the Boston & Maine R. R. ideal; the location, surrounded by high grade homes; within short distance of industry, directly on the Middlesex Street, North Chelmsford and Tyngsboro car line, and the fact that vacant land is in such demand, and that building operations in Lowell never were as great as at present, make this sale of extraordinary importance, and should strongly appeal to builders, speculators and investors, a rarely, if ever, occurring opportunity to purchase such a large parcel, with such environment, and more particularly at open competition.

Manager Maurice E. McCormick, Supt. Thomas J. Sawyer, Claim Agent Geo. W. Emmsley and Investigator John C. Clark of the Street Railway company are attending a meeting of the New England Street Railway club at the Copley-Plaza hotel, Boston, this afternoon and evening.

WILL MEET DARTMOUTH COLLEGE IN DEBATE

The climax of the debating season at the local high school will be reached tomorrow evening in Coburn hall, when the Dartmouth college freshmen debating team opposes a team representing the Frederick T. Greenhalge Debating Society of the local school. This debate marks the first time in the history of the school that a college debating society team has opposed the local team, assisted by several members of the school faculty as coaches. Have worked steadily for several weeks preparing their arguments.

The subject of the debate is, "Resolved: That the United States should enter the world court with the fullest provisions." The team chosen to represent the high school consists of Alphonse Acton, president of the class of 1924; Merrill Calkins, colonel of the regiment; and Richard Welch, one of the stars of the school play, "The Boomerang." Miss Frances Masterson is coach of the society.

Due to the importance of this event, Headmaster Harris sought a satisfactory hall to the visitors and the home team and announced today that he had secured the services of the following: Professor Guy Ayoub of the English department at Groton academy; Ira Winters, professor of oratory at Harvard university; and Rev. Thomas J. M. Quinn, S. J., professor of oratory at Boston college.

The Lowell Dartmouth club has extended considerably interest in the debate and has reserved 150 seats in the hall for its members. Tickets have also sold very rapidly at the school and it is expected that the hall will be crowded to capacity long before the first speaker is announced.

Those in the front of the Bon Marche are believed to be the best in the city, and being an inside activity, the job seemed all the more hazardous.

The glass was furnished and set by C. B. Coburn Co. Eight of the company's men, under the direction of Joseph Howe, foreman glazier, lifted the massive plate glass into position. The light measured 120x142 ft. and weighed approximately 1000 pounds. It was necessary to have a special permit from the Boston police department to carry the glass through the streets of Boston.

opinion it was not necessary in this part of the state, at least for all cities with a radius of 40 miles of this city use the same type coupling and apparatus from any city in this area can be used in any other city without the necessity of changing over couplings.

The thread used on couplings and hydrants in this district is known as the "Roxbury" thread. The new law provides that the national standard thread be used. This new standard is just half a thread lower than the Roxbury thread.

The Fire Chiefs club of this state has purchased, at an expense of $500, a set of taps and dies which are to be used to change over present hose couplings and hydrant nozzles to the new standard. This apparatus will be sent in the club and used, under the direction of an expert, in making the necessary changes. This equipment will be used in this city and Chief Saunders estimates that labor costs in connection with the work of changing the threads will amount to between $2000 and $3000.

ner's arrest occurred shortly after 9:30 o'clock, last night. Defendant was driving in the direction of the Middlesex depot, and crashed through the gates at the tracks when he failed to notice that they had been lowered.

His machine sped across the tracks and about through the barrier on the other side, after which he kept on going at an increased rate of speed.

A witness noted the registration number of the vehicle and Motorcycle Officer Walter Kilian proceeded hastily to Wagner's home in Akawam street. Upon arrival there, he was informed that Wagner had not been home for some time.

While returning by way of Moore street, Officer Kilian was confronted with a machine speeding along the thoroughfare, and signalled the operator to stop. The challenge was met with more speed, and the officer was obliged to leap to the running board and turn off the ignition before bringing the car to a standstill.

LOWELL MEN HONORED THE BOOSTER BULLETIN AT WORCESTER MEETING IS VERY ATTRACTIVE

Lowell was signally honored yesterday, at the annual convention of Massachusetts state chamber of commerce, held in Hotel Bancroft, Worcester, with more than 300 delegates representing every chamber organization in the state, present to participate in important discussions conducive to the welfare and prosperity of the old Bay State.

Lowell chamber of commerce was represented by Secretary-Manager George F. Wells, who was honored with an important executive berth in the advisory council of state secretaries.

Theodore William N. Goodell, of the local chamber was re-elected a member of the state board of directors and was also selected to be the chairman of an interesting discussion on daylight saving problems.

Mr. Samuel H. Thompson, local business man and active chamber of commerce member, local supporter, was unanimously re-elected vice-president of the state organization.

The delegates re-elected Edwin W. Smith of Westfield, president for the coming year. Mr. Smith has proven to be energetic in leadership, forceful in promotion of the chamber's programs of advisory importance and executive action—one who is most approachable at all times and ready to be of service in all Massachusetts prosperity campaigns.

The daylight saving discussion, regarded as one of the most important subjects of the day's proceedings at Worcester—brought out a volume of testimony as to the values of continuing the present daylight saving law. There was very little opposition manifest, the vote showing an overwhelming sentiment in favor of continuing the state-wide arrangement.

The delegates voted unanimously to approve of latest legislative measure increasing the authority of city and town officials in controlling the erection of advertising billboards. The chamber delegates also approved on the legislative measure calling for the establishment of two cents per gallon on all gasoline sold at retail to consumers, the funds to be used in connection with the expenditure of state highway. Commissioner William P. Williams delivered a lengthy address, revealing the cost of Massachusetts highway building of the present day.

Secretary-Manager Wells of Lowell was honored by appointment to chairmanship of the advisory council, which is composed of all secretaries of all local chambers of commerce in Massachusetts. They elect a chairman, vice-chairman and secretary, three members of the board of directors of the state chamber are assigned to the advisory rolls, and a member of the executive committee are also members of this important body within the state organization.

Mr. Wells and his co-workers in the advisory council, held two important meetings yesterday, before the convention closed last night with a wonderfully good banquet in Hotel Bancroft.

Governor Channing H. Cox was the guest of honor and gave an address in valedictory style that captured all delegates present. Next came a long congratulatory letter from President Calvin Coolidge, which was read and loudly cheered. The principal speaker after the governor's address, was Hon. Frank G. Allen of the Massachusetts senate, who eulogized the Cox administration.

OSAKA, Japan, May 22. (By the Associated Press.)—This was a notable day for the American army aviators, who are circling the globe by air. Within 12 hours they drove down out of the black, windy north Pacific rain, where storms and fogs have hampered their progress for days, into a temperate climate, where they probably can make up some of the lost time. MANILA, May 22.—(By the Associated Press.) The American flag flying at a village on the island of Bahuyan was hauled down and a Japanese flag hoisted in its place by pirates said to be Japanese, who recently raided the village, according to a report brought by members of the crew of the yacht Apo, on which Governor-General Wood has just visited Bahuyan and Marana islands. According to the crew, the Philippine villagers pulled down the alien banner and replaced the American one when the pirates had departed.

NEW BISHOP NAMED

Geo. A. Miller of South America Elected Bishop of
M. E. Church Today

SPRINGFIELD, May 22.—George A. Miller of South America, was elected bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church by the general conference here today on the fourth ballot.

Bishop-elect Miller received 576 votes with 561 necessary for election. The Rev. Titus Lowe of Nebraska, was second with 542 and the Rev. George R. Greene, president of DePauw university, Indiana, third with 494.

It was said that Bishop-elect Miller would probably be sent to the diocese of Mexico City. He was born in Mendon, Ill., in 1868 and was graduated from Lehigh Stanford university in 1898, having been ordained a pastor in 1896. He served as a missionary in the Philippines and on the board of foreign missions in Philadelphia. After occupying various pastorates he became secretary of the South American area.

For the last six months, Dr. Miller has been superintendent of the Central American Mission and his home is in Panama City, Panama. His wife is Margaret Ross Miller, formerly of California.

The taking of another ballot for bishop was then begun. Four bishops must yet be chosen and each must receive two-thirds of the total vote cast. Discussion of plans for the reorganization of the church benevolent board occupied the forenoon session. An amendment to the majority report of a committee which would have continued the board of education for negroes with the board of education was tabled. Irving C. Penn of Washington, a negro delegate, declared that the pending unification of the northern and southern churches might be hampered by such a maneuver.

A special session of the conference later in the day was devoted upon for further discussion of the benevolent board plan.

SEES ANOTHER WORLD WAR

Dr. Sun Moved By Expressions of Sympathy From
U. S. on Reported Death

Says China, Harassed by
Other Nations, May Cause
Another World War

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—The Public Ledger in a copyright despatch today from Canton, China, quotes Mr. Sun Yat Sen, first president of the Chinese republic, as saying that he had been deeply moved by the expressions of sympathy emanating from America at the false reports of his death. He also said that China, harassed by other nations may cause another world war.

The Ledger correspondent said that he had talked for an hour with Dr. Sun at his headquarters and that later he had handed him a signed statement which read in part: "I declare that as long as foreign powers, including the American government, persist in recognition of the Wu Pei-Fu clique as the Chinese government, there must be disorder and strife in China. "I beg for no assistance at the hands of foreign powers, but as founder of the new order in China, I have a right to demand neutrality of foreign powers in our internal affairs. Otherwise, the day may come when harassed China may be the hand to set afire another world conflict."

GOV. COX URGES RIGOROUS ECONOMY

BOSTON, May 22.—Gov. Cox sent to the legislature today a supplementary budget measure in which he urged rigorous economy for the remainder of the session. The supplementary budget which he submitted makes an allowance of $254,082 for legislative non-pending and for additional departmental requests. He pointed out that the total of present plan called for in legislative measures still pending and in additional departmental requests greatly exceeded this sum and added: "It is evident that all those measures which do not meet the test of absolute necessity must be deferred or it will be impossible to hold the state tax at the desired figure of $10,000,000."

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 22.—Two persons were dead and six others are unconscious at the Norfolk, Mass., hospital as the result of the collision of two automobiles on the Boston post road near the John Holland Veterans' hospital in Norfolk, about 3 o'clock this morning.

The dead are:

All but two of the above were reported unconscious an hour and a half after reaching the Norfolk, Mass., hospital.

The victims of the crash were members of a party returning from Lake Pearl, near Wrentham, in three automobiles. The first machine ran into a truck, parked at the side of the road.

The second car, close behind, was swerved to one side to avoid piling into the others, and went over a 25-foot bank. The third car was stopped.

Auto Drivers Held
FRANKLIN, May 22.—Joseph B. Mahoney and Joseph F. Heffron, drivers of two of the automobiles which figured in the double fatality collision in Norfolk, early this morning, were held in $1400 and $1000 bail, respectively, in district court here this morning.

Mahoney, who lives at 167 Beacon street, Boston, was arraigned on four charges, manslaughter, operating under the influence of liquor, drunkenness, and operating without a license.

Heffron, who gave his address as 8 Cordis street, Charlestown, was charged with manslaughter.

Both obtained bail. The case was set for hearing in the district court at Waltham, May 28.

MILK QUALITY LITTLE LOWER

Decline is Seasonal and Expected, Inspector Masters
Says in Interview

Department is Vigilant and is Watching Hundreds of Dispensers Closely

Lowell's milk supply is showing the usual seasonal lessening as to quality, according to Melvin Masters, milk inspector, interviewed this morning in his office at city hall. From the several hundred samples analyzed this month, he says it is evident that the quality of milk has receded slightly but added that this is usual at this time, when many farms change their cows from barn feeding to pasture grazing. The milk department is vigilant in watching that milk does not fall below the minimum standards and has notified several dealers and farmers that the last samples taken analyzed quite close to the line.

"We find but little trouble in having this corrected," said Mr. Masters, "and farmers for the most seem to realize that we want to do what is right by them and to have them do what is right by us. Of the last samples seized—and I have looked at 30 this morning—I find ten are quite close to the minimum requirements while the others are all safe. These ten we shall watch closely and if necessary warn them. I expect to find that with most of them it is the usual seasonal change that accompanies a change in food to cattle and that will pass off."

LINGUIST BRINGS SUIT AGAINST RAILROAD

A most unusual case in which Harris Bacco, an interpreter in many languages, seeks to recover $188.10 from the Boston & Maine railroad for services rendered as an employment agent, went to trial today in the jury-waived session of the superior court here before Judge McLeod.

The plaintiff alleges in his declaration that he was hired by the Boston & Maine under an agreement for the purpose of engaging laborers to work on the road, with the stipulation that he should receive as compensation 10 cents per day per man for every day a man was so employed.

He states further that 19 laborers were so engaged by him and put to work by the railroad, but that he was discharged on September 27, 1923, whereas the 19 men were not discharged until December 14 and he seeks compensation at the 15-cent-per-day rate for the 66 days between the dates of Sept. 27 and Dec. 14, amounting to $188.10.

Fisher B. Ferguson appears for the plaintiff, with Trish, Wier & O'Donoghue for the railroad.

An additional and unexpected expense of between two and three thousand dollars will have to be sustained by the local fire department on account of a law signed by Governor Cox May 16, which provides that the hose couplings and hydrant nozzles in all cities and towns of the commonwealth must be threaded according to the national standard.

The purpose of the law is to make it possible for equipment from any city of the commonwealth to be of the right size and thread to be used in any other city or town as is often necessary in cases of conflagrations. The general purpose of the law, according to Fire Chief Saunders, is good but in his

During the five years of operation of the Massachusetts 18-hour law, she said, there was a marked increase in the amount paid in wages and in yearly earnings of employees, the number of establishments, capital invested and the value of the manufactured products.

CARD OF THANKS

To our many kind friends and neighbors and especially to the employees of the Mohair Dress Co., we take this means of expressing our sincere thanks for the many acts of kindness and words of condolence extended to us in the loss of our beloved son, and also to those who sent floral tributes. To all we are deeply grateful and their kindness shall never be forgotten.

Makes Fat People Slim

New York Physician Perfects Harmless Method of Reducing Weight

The loss of as much as a pound of excess fat in a day with no harmful results is the record made by many patients of Dr. R. Newman, a licensed reducing physician of 286 Fifth avenue, New York, who announces that he has perfected a treatment which has quickly rid people of excess weight. What is more remarkable is the doctor's statement that he has successfully treated thousands of patients for reduction without chance of ill or unnecessary exercise. It is also said that fat people who suffer from chronic rheumatism, gout, asthma and high blood pressure obtain great relief from the reduction of their superfluous flesh. Realizing that this sounds almost too good to be true, a doctor has offered to send, without charge to anyone who will write him, a free trial treatment to prove his claims, as well as his "Pay-when-satisfied" plan. If you want to rid yourself of superfluous fat, write him today, addressing Dr. R. Newman, 286 Fifth Avenue, New York City, Dept. R. Adv.

Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION

CONCERT OF THE NORMAL SCHOOL GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee club and orchestra of the State Normal school are to give their annual concert tomorrow evening in the Memorial Auditorium. They are to be assisted by Mr. David Blair McLusky, baritone, one of the leading soloists of Boston, and there are to be incidental solos by Miss Patricia Doran of Lowell and Miss Edna Lawrence of Andover. This concert is likely long to be remembered by the music lovers of the city because of the fact that Miss Inez Field Damon has developed a program which aims to present a series of outstanding compositions that are representative of various periods in the history of music. These cover the long stretch from the 12th century to the present time so that the program promises to be not only a delight to the lovers of music, but of extreme interest to music students. Much of the very old music proves to have a peculiar charm with biting rhythms that haunt the mind.

DAVID BLAIR MCCLUSKY

The program opens with two folk-songs, one of Hungary and one of Czechoslovakia. These are followed by a 12th century French dance-song, "Queen of April." There is little doubt that the beauty of these old music numbers will be a revelation to the standing compositions that are representative of various periods in the history of music. These cover the long stretch from the 12th century to the present time so that the program promises to be not only a delight to the lovers of music, but of extreme interest to music students. Much of the very old music proves to have a peculiar charm with biting rhythms that haunt the mind.

Beware of Constipation

Few people seem to realize the serious consequences that may arise from constipation—the grave disorders that may set in if the bowels and kidneys do not regularly carry away all the waste matters and poisonous impurities from the body. If these noxious matters are permitted to accumulate, the whole system becomes poisoned—indigestion, Liver Trouble, Kidney Disorders, Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble and more serious ailments result.

Avoid such a condition. "Fruit-a-lives"—made from fruit juices and tonics—will ensure the regular healthy action of the kidneys and bowels and save you from all the annoyances and dangers of Constipation. Get a box from your druggist today, 25c and 50c at all druggists, or direct from average listener. In grace, verve, syncopated rhythms and spontaneity, it would be difficult to find their equal in music of the modern school. The 13th century English canon for equal voices will be given by three young women. The original drone of the bagpipe accompaniment will be supplied by the Glee Club. This composition entitled "Summer is leaven in" is the oldest piece of this kind of writing known to exist in any country. Various other compositions will be given leading up to the cantata, "The Land of Heart's Desire," by Ethelbert Nevin, arranged by Deems Taylor. At his death, Mr. Nevin left an unfinished work known as "The Quest." This has been completed and arranged for women's voices with a baritone solo by Mr. Deems Taylor, the well known American composer and the music critic of the New York World. Mr. Randolph Hartley, the author of the text, came to Mr. Nevin with the first lyric, "The Maidens Sing at the Fountain-side." This lyric so captivated Mr. Nevin that the entire subsequent work was based upon it. The work was later orchestrated by Mr. Horatio Parker of Yale. Mr. McLusky will assist the Glee club in this number.

The concert is free and no tickets are required. It will begin promptly at 8.15 and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present.

SAYS AMERICANS

EAT TOO MUCH

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., May 22.—"Americans are guilty of two great dietary sins," Dr. G. V. Webster of Carthage, declared at the national convention of osteopaths here today. "They eat too much, and they don't eat enough of foods rich in mineral bases," he added. Dr. Webster laid the blame for this omission of a balanced diet to the manufacturer who relishes foods too much and to the housewife who throws away the coarser parts, to please the eye and tongue.

MISS O'HARA HONORED

Abundant of the many friends of Miss Barbara O'Hara met recently at the home of Mrs. John Mooney, 1401 Gorham street to extend their best wishes to Miss O'Hara, who is soon to become the bride of Mr. Patrick J. Wynn, a popular employee of the N.Y. & H. railroad. The bride-to-be was showered with many beautiful gifts of fine linen, cut glass and china. Entertainment numbers were given by the following: Mrs. J. Mooney, Mrs. J. Jackson, Mrs. J. Wynn, Mrs. D. Ramsey, Mrs. S. Toy, Mrs. M. Wynn, Miss Katharine Warnock, Mrs. E. Neal, Miss Mary Kelly and Mrs. H. Foley. Refreshments were served during the evening and a pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

WILL BROADCAST BIG AUTO RACE

For the first time in the history of radio, an automobile classic will be broadcast Memorial Day when the Indianapolis 500-mile speedway race will be sent over the air to listeners in all parts of the country by station WGN, Chicago. Tribune-Zenith broadcasting station located at the Edgewater Beach hotel, Chicago, on the shores of Lake Michigan.

This race is one of the greatest sporting events of the year and draws annually the largest crowds assembled for any event in the United States. Last year more than 150,000 persons watched the speeding cars and this year the demand for tickets indicates an even greater attendance.

The Prest-o-Lite company which controls the exclusive broadcast privileges of the race, selected WGN as the station from which to transmit the race because of its location and its records for distance reception.

WGN is sending its star announcer, A. W. "Son" Kane to handle the identification of the race. The technical description will be given by a racing expert provided by the Prest-o-Lite Co. R. H. G. Matthews, chief engineer of the Zenith radio corporation, will look after the installation and operation of the circuit by means of which the race will be carried to the Chicago station, on the Edgewater Beach hotel. The race will start promptly at 10 o'clock Central standard time, but since the half hour immediately preceding the race is one of the most colorful periods of the day, WGN will go on the air at 9:30 o'clock.

NEGOTIATIONS BREAK DOWN IN BERLIN
BERLIN, May 22.—(By the Associated Press) The negotiations between the middle parties and the German nationalists on the subject of the formation of a government have failed owing to the nationalists' insistence upon their right to appoint Admiral Von Tirpitz as the new chancellor.
The other parties refused to discuss a personal question of this nature until the policy of the future government was settled, whereupon the negotiations broke down.

NEW INVESTIGATION INTO KILLING OF ELWELL
NEW YORK, May 22.—Bernard M. Sandler, an attorney, will ask the district attorney this fall to undertake a new investigation into the killing of Joseph Elwell, bridge authority and man-about-town, on the strength of new evidence he has unearthed pointing to a man hitherto not mentioned in the case.
Mr. Sandler, as counsel for Miss Viola Kraus, whose name was mentioned in connection with the crime, said he had made a personal inquiry during the past year which has brought to light facts which will clear his client. He announced his intention yesterday after a conversation with Mrs. Walter Lewishin, a former in June, 1920, in an apartment on West 70th street, owned by Sandler. An empty shell, a cigarette stub and the fact that the whisky expert had been host to a party including the effort to reopen the case will be Miss Kraus the night before, were all the facts the authorities had to work upon.

PARIS, May 22.—Not more than 25,000 acres of former arable land will have to be definitely abandoned in the war-swept district of the Somme, according to an official report made today. The original estimate was that nearly 75,000 acres had been left in such a condition after the war that it would never be possible to cultivate it again. Only one village, Thierval, will not be rebuilt, although it was at first thought that several villages would never be reconstructed. The owners of the abandoned land will be compensated by the government.

strument of government ever devised and most remarkable when it is considered that after trial for a span of 140 years it remains practically unchanged in material points.

The superintendent's address was intensely interesting and apt, inasmuch as it now is obligatory in Massachusetts, through the enactment of a state law, to teach the constitution in all elementary schools.

Mr. Molloy was presented by Miss Mary E. Tobin, president of the Teachers' organization and his address followed a brief business meeting which touched upon one or two things of interest to the teachers.

At the outset Mr. Molloy called attention to the time-worn and familiar declaration, "The majority rules." He maintained that it never has, it does not now and never will. With one or two

This Will Make Many Women Think

Every woman realizes that the flavor and digestibility of her fried food depend on the fat she uses. For this reason, the modern housewife is anxious to know the source of the fat she uses, and how it is made.

This determination to know the facts is undoubtedly one of the main reasons for the tremendous popularity of Mazola for frying.

It is a pleasant thought, in the kitchen and at the table, to know that the source of Mazola is as good and delicious to eat as Mazola itself.

If you like "corn-on-the-cob" you can't help liking Mazola. For this pure cooking and salad oil is made from the hearts of full-ripened corn—America's Greatest Cereal.

This is why Mazola is known as the absolutely pure vegetable oil—from an edible source. And it is made right in the heart of the big corn belt of the United States, in a clean, sanitary, modern plant. Every can is sealed tight—and you, the consumer, are the first person to touch its contents.

Mazola is not a grease—but a wholesome, easily digested fat. That is why Mazola-fried foods are easy to digest—and free from grease.

Many mothers, realizing the health and food value of Mazola, give a spoonful or two to their growing children.

When you think of frying, think of Mazola—use it once and you will never go back to the old-fashioned, greasy methods of frying.

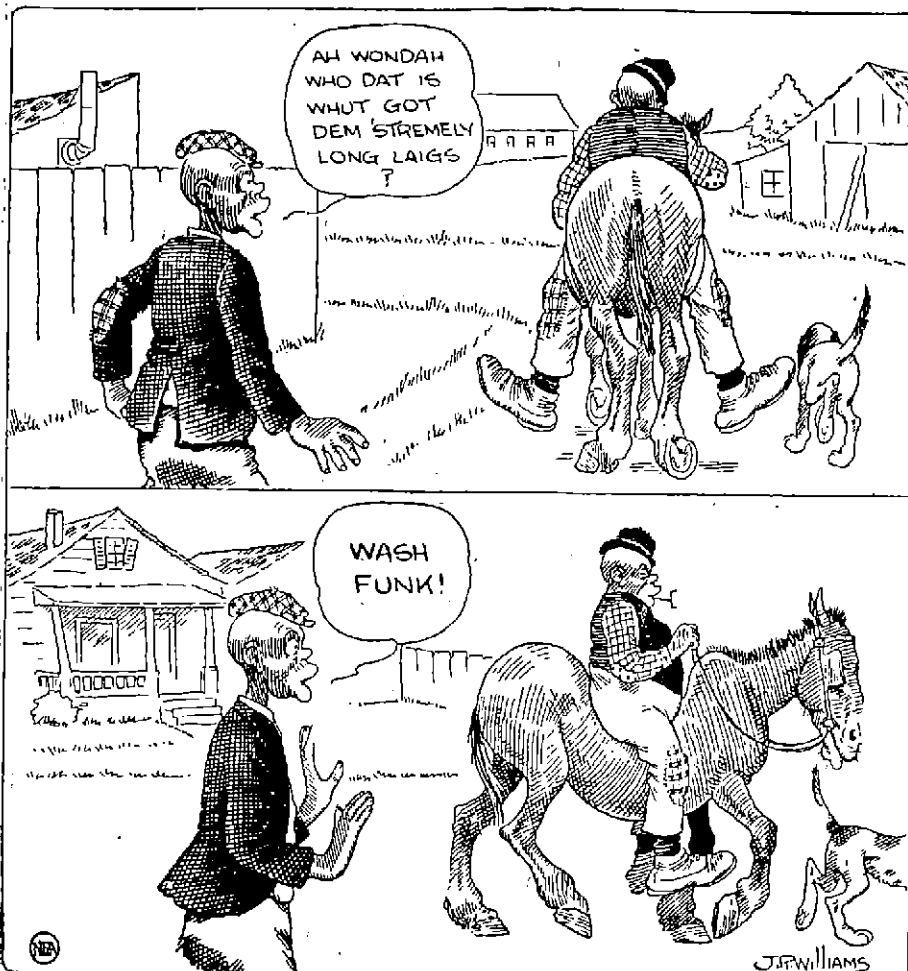

A PLEASANT THOUGHT

"Mazola is as delicious and good to eat as the corn from which it comes."

exceptions, a handful of men have controlled the destinies of nations and except in the instances of the election to the presidency of Washington and Lincoln, the chief executive officers of the United States have been chosen by small groups of men in one or the other of the two principal political parties. The people simply elect the men chosen for them by a small minority, he declared.

"The ordinary schoolboy has an idea that the United States practically sprang into existence after the War of the Revolution," said Mr. Molloy, "but of course, we know this is not so and cannot possibly be true. In the 150-year period between the landing of the Pilgrims in 1620 and the year 1770, just before the Revolution, there grew up in our own New England a strong, resourceful, rich and cultivated society. Men grew to virile manhood here who were close students of the systems of government and many of the early colonies had model forms of government within their charters."

"The colonies were not wildernesses," he continued. "They were forward-looking communities, with men within them who were graduates of such universities as Harvard, Yale, Princeton and William and Mary. The men and women of that time were part of a world-wide movement for universal freedom."

"As early as 1764, before the fall of Quebec, there had been a conference of northern colonies for the purpose of discussing encroachment from the north and the need of a union of colonies was then seen and discussed. It was at that time that Franklin gave to the world his motto-flag, 'Unite or Die.' Another sign of the times was the repeal of the stamp act in 1764 and through all the troublesome times of 1770, 1772 and 1773, the dates of the Boston massacre, the Boston Tea Party and the closing of the Port of Boston, the colonies were preparing for action. In 1774 was drawn up the Declaration of Rights."

"The War of the Revolution was of long duration, much longer than would have been the case if the government at the time had been similar to that of the time of the Civil war, or that of the years 1917 and 1918, for with a government such as the one we know today in force, Washington would have been given men and money and the war would not have continued more than two years."

Mr. Molloy spoke of the chaotic conditions that existed directly at the close of the Revolution and during a number of years thereafter. He called to that time that Franklin gave to the

but said they do not compare with the dissatisfaction expressed in those early times. "In similar manner," he said, "the criticisms of presidents by partisan press during the past 29 years cannot begin to match in viciousness the things said about Washington and Lincoln, and so perhaps, things are not going quite so badly with us today as some persons would have us believe."

Coming down to the time of the Philadelphia constitutional convention, Mr. Molloy said it accomplished the great feat of civil government ever performed in modern times, and under tremendous handicaps and obstacles. The stage was set for a battle of conflicting opinions but compromise, wisely suggested and stored, prevailed all day. He spoke of the work accomplished at the convention by Alexander Hamilton of New York and James Madison of Virginia, although the former was clock-mated consistently by two other New York delegates who did not believe in a union of states. Hamilton's work, however, for the most part was done after the constitution was framed, when he spent a great deal of time and energy in the dissemination of information which would lead the states to accept it.

The main fight at the convention was on only one item, the legislative phase of government and representation from states in the national congress. Here it was that compromise quelled threatened splits and was instrumental in saving the day.

"The most remarkable thing is that the constitution as written at that time has remained practically unchanged through all these years," declared Mr. Molloy. "As we read the varied news of today, in all its aspects, touching the political and economic sides of the life of the country, we shall most certainly be at sea unless we know more about the past and the marvelous accomplishments of the founders of the Union, who builded better than they knew."

The makers of Boott Toweling urge women to wash their Boott Towels with Rinso

"The washings done with Rinso were a revelation.

"The work of washing was cut almost in half, there was scarcely any rubbing and the towels came out as white as though new off the bolt.

"We gave them a good trial, too. We took very soiled towels and gave them many washings. The strength of our fine quality cotton yarn was not lessened by these washings, and the finish of the towels was just as beautiful as it was before laundering."

Fresh clean towels without hard rubbing

Dissolve Rinso in boiling water. It swishes up into a wonderful soap solution—a rich soapy suds.

Pour this into your tub and let your towels soak in these cleansing suds. This soaking takes the place of rubbing. The loosened dirt flushes right off in the rinsing.

If your towels are very grimy from the children's hands or from hands that have cleaned the car, after soaking you will want to sprinkle a little dry Rinso on the worst places and rub them lightly between your hands. Then even this dirt will come out with only a light rubbing.

Use the wonderful Rinso soap-suds in your tubs, boiler, or washing machine in the ordinary way. Always use enough Rinso to get big lasting suds after the clothes are put in. You'll find it ideal for all the family wash. Because Rinso is all dissolved it rinses out thoroughly leaving no bits of soap sticking to garments to turn them yellow under the iron.

Even the dirt they actually rub into the towels is gently loosened in the rich Rinso soap-suds.

RENDIGS FACES 20-YEAR GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

NEW YORK, May 22.—Charles W. Rendigs today faces a possible term of 20 years in Sing Sing prison as a result of his conviction by a jury last night of perjury in connection with statements he made during examination of his qualification to sit as a juror in the Edward M. Fuller bucket shon case. The jury deliberated seven hours before bringing in a verdict. Rendigs was sent back to the Tombs to await sentence Monday. He was indicted for swearing that he did not know William J. Fallon, Fuller or W. Frank McGee when questioned as a prospective juror in the first Fuller-McGee trial last year, which ended in a disagreement. The brokers have since confessed.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., May 22 (by the Associated Press).—The 125th general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America opened here this morning, listened to the keynote address of Dr. Charles F. Wishart, the retiring moderator, and then plunged into the business of electing his successor.

Nine hundred and sixty commissioners, representing Presbyteries in every state in the Union, are in attendance at the assembly which, for the first time on record, is being held in a church of another denomination—the Fountain Street Baptist church. SAYS POLITICS BEHIND FALL OF FRANC

PARIS, May 21 (by the Associated Press).—The campaign against the franc is an underhanded maneuver of domestic politics, declares Edouard Herriot, potential premier of France, under the new coalition of the left, in a signed article published in L'Humanite. The radical leader criticizes the Temps in this connection for having sounded a note of alarm concern-

He forebears giving details as to what his policy will be, but declares the Temps and the reactionary elements are trying to stampede the people with alarmist reports. AMUSEMENT NOTES

REALTY THEATRE

In a season notable for the number of spectacular pictures produced by William Fox, it is safe to presume that no offering contains such a remarkable scene as "The Blizzard" in its presentation of a reindeer herd and stampede. This picture which comes to Lowell today, where it is playing first run at the Rialto theatre, is the story of Selma Lagerlof, who won the Nobel prize for literature.

The reindeer stampede scene was caught by a scientific expedition and because it is particularly revealed in a scene in the novel, was used in the picture. Thousands of reindeer are shown crossing the white wastes, the leader stepping gingerly into an icy river, then striking out with a vast herd following him in a weaving, straggling mass to the opposite shore. Then, terrified by the blizzard, they break and scatter. Mary Johnson, the European Mary who finally rises triumphant over Mrs. Plectford, has the leading role. Aside from the beautiful romance and the actual beauty of the story, there is said to be some of the most wonderful photography ever filmed. Cameron and Hobart Bosworth, who "shot" the stampede were in fact.

CONSTIPATED? BEWARE OF INDICAN!

the poison sign of constipation, warn health authorities - what to do

THE danger of constipation is its poison, warn physicians. This poison is pumped into every little muscle and every little joint in your body. Beware! for it has the same effect as Carbolic Acid or any other poison.

Do you dare to make a test to prove this? Three out of four constipated men and women under such a test show the presence of INDICAN, and Indican is the sign doctor look for to find out if your blood is poisoned.

Carter's Little Liver Pills, unlike ordinary laxatives, not only "physic" the stomach, liver and intestines quickly, but also drive the INDICAN away.

Make This Test: Have analysis made of your specimen, and if the chemist reports the presence of INDICAN—or if you can "feel" how poisoned you are because of bad stomach, no appetite, foul breath and sour taste—immediately start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills. Next, have another test made and see how the INDICAN disappears. Now your clear, bright complexion, free from pimples and blackheads, comes back—you can EAT like a kid, and you feel PLEASANT in most cases.

Note: Carter's Little Liver Pills, used for 67 years by millions of people all over the world, is a purely vegetable preparation and contains no drugs of any nature. It therefore acts in a natural way and is non-habit forming. Money refunded if results are not satisfactory.

The National Board of Review has rated the picture among the first of the year and paid particular tribute to the scene of the reindeer stampede.

The Fifth Round of H. C. Witwer's "Fighting Blood," a fighting classic, is also on the bill and is a knockout. It has everything. week-end is Fred Thompson, noted athlete, in "The Mark of Love," a great story of the west. A Lloyd Hamilton comedy, "The Educator," and the latest International News round out the bill.

For Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the entertainment continues with a big double-feature program, "The Condemned Man" with Thomas Meighan, and "Drama of Jeopardy," starring Elaine Hammerstein.

THE STRAND

"Pendocuous," one of Marshall Neilson's latest and most successful pictures, featuring Conrad Nagel, Lucille Ricksen, Elmo Lincoln, Sidney Chaplin, Emmett Corrigan, Kate Lester and others, is the headliner on the bill at the Strand for the last part of the week, starting with Monday. Today, the brilliant court circles of Russia are startled by the news that Prince Tamiraff has been exiled to Siberia because he married against the wishes of the czar. His bride is sent with him. Unable to stand the rigor of that section, the wife dies, leaving a baby behind. The prince, however, shrines in memory of his dead wife, and later is forced to the because of political persecution. Fifteen years later Walter Stafford, an American lieutenant on duty in Siberia, falls in love with the adolescent Vera, now grown to beautiful womanhood. He is ordered to marry her father the girl plodges eternal devotion. Then comes the order to return to America. Walter tears himself away, leaving Vera in the care of his fiancée, which is a British soldier.

Walter returns later to find the place in the shadow of a Russian. His beautiful dream girl has been dragged to the altar by a Cossack brigand. After a series of startling adventures, Vera is freed of her bonds and Walter takes her to America. There's a happy and pleasing finale.

"Jealous Hands," with Earl Williams, Jane Novak, Ben Alexander and others, engaged in its interpretation, and besides it's a First National production, a fact that adds materially to the guarantee of worth. The story is a present-day reflection of conditions that are actually exist in certain families and homes. Jealousy is the basis upon which the author and producers have woven one of the most dramatic and interesting picture stories of the season. You will surely learn things worth knowing after seeing this offering. Don't miss it. The comedy and romance also help make the program one of unqualified worth in entertaining powers.

R. F. KETTES THEATRE

The Quixey Four, positively the best all-around quartet in vaudeville is scoring a positive hit at the R. F. Kettes theatre this week, while George Morrison and Henry Gordon, "Two Black Lads," continue to amuse with their funny act. Mack and Lane have come choice lines of witty comedy, and Jeffing and Francis are as light and airy as ever. Other acts on the bill are the Walsh Sisters, singers, and the Martin, the juggler and acrobat. The picture is "Gambling Wives."

A REMEDY FOR NEURASTHENIA

This Pawtucket Man Suffered for Years and Recommends Successful Treatment

"My nerves were completely shattered," says Mr. Edmund Smith, of No. 138 North Main street, Pawtucket, R. I., "and I suffered for several years from neurasthenia. I had nervous headaches which were so severe that I would have to go to bed for hours. I was dizzy and faint at times. Spells would come on me as I was walking to work when I would feel as though I were sinking. Once I actually fell down. I had no appetite and food was repulsive to me. I tried all kinds of treatments but never received any benefit until I read about in a newspaper. After the first box I noticed that my nerves were quieter and I had some appetite. I began to get my strength back after the second box and was not so exhausted at the end of a day's work. I continued to benefit my right along and I believe they are the best remedy for such a nervous condition as I have described."

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, sixty cents per box, by Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write for free booklet on nervous disorders which contains a chapter on the treatment of neurasthenia.—Adc.

WOMAN AILING FOR A YEAR

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Happy Results

Newcastle, Pa.—"I was all run-down and everybody thought I was going into a decline. I had been ailing for a year with pains in my right side so that I could hardly stand on my feet. When I walked I felt as if something was falling. I was not able to do any work and had a nurse most of the time. She spoke to me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I gave it a fair trial. Some women think one bottle should cure them, but I did not stop at that. I took more and got better and am able ever since to do my own housework. There was a time, when I would complain of not feeling well, that my husband would say, 'Go to the doctor.' But now he will tell me to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's, and it has always helped me. I have had druggists tell me that they had something better, but they don't tell me that now, for I take no other. I have been taking the Vegetable Compound now for five years. Any woman who cares to call or write, I will be glad to tell her how it helped me."—MRS. MABEL LIST SHERBURN, 615 Newell Ave., Newcastle, Pa.

ASSAILING THE CONSTITUTION

It would appear that a great many people in this country, some of whom claim to be "patriots" and assume to dictate to others, never heard of the constitution of the United States or else they disregard and repudiate its provisions. For the benefit of these benighted plotters, we may say that the first ten amendments to the constitution are known as the "Bill of Rights" and the first of these provides that congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.

There is at least one organization secretly plotting to overthrow that provision of the constitution, and strange to say, its members are doing so under the guise of "patriotism." The socialists and communists make the same plea in advancing their policies. They also want to overthrow the constitution for their own selfish ends. As revolutionaries secret workers are most dangerous. If they dared to work in the open, they could be met with the treatment they deserve; but as secret conspirators against the constitution, they are to be classed with the worst enemies of the government, with the communists, Bolsheviks and other nondescript organizations laboring to overthrow truth and justice, Christian freedom and the Golden Rule.

THE MOTOR BUS

Evidently the city council will have some difficulty in reaching a right decision in regard to the petition for bus lines from Lowell to other cities. Already a hearing has been held on the petition for a franchise for a bus line to run between this city and Lawrence on the south side of the river. Another petition will soon come up for consideration on the question of granting the local street railway company a franchise for a bus line from Lowell to Boston, via Billerica.

There is no doubt that hereafter, the motor bus will be used to a considerable extent for the purpose of passenger conveyance. On some lines it may be substituted for the electric cars; and if properly conducted with a view to the safety of the passengers and other traffic on the highways, it may have some advantages over those cars. The presumption is, however, that owing to the large investment in electric lines it would not be fair to the stockholders to bankrupt them by competition of motor bus lines. It will, therefore, be expedient to confine the bus lines, if established, chiefly to the routes and districts not adequately covered by the electric cars. The day has come when any advantage is to be derived from competition between rival street car lines, or between the electric and motor bus lines. But the possibilities of the motor bus for passenger service cannot be flouted.

All these questions can be decided properly only by providing for public necessity with as little disturbance as possible to vested interests. To provide one line to run another out of business would be poor policy; and yet the people must be given the best service obtainable, regardless of whether that shall be conducted by the electric car lines or motor bus companies. It is important, however, that every one of these new concerns shall be held to strict financial responsibility in case of accident to its cars resulting in loss of life or serious injury to passengers. This is a prime consideration that has been fully met by the street car companies.

JAPANESE EXCLUSION

There has been much discussion of the immigration question and more or less criticism of congress for favoring Japanese exclusion. But congress is familiar with the facts in the case and the public is not. It seems that the "Gentlemen's Agreement," so-called, which was made by President Roosevelt, provided for an amicable arrangement between this country and Japan in reference to the acceptance of Japanese immigrants at the various ports of entry.

Under this agreement, however, it appears that the object provided for has been overcome as shown by the figures indicating the increase in Japanese population. The total Japanese in this country when the Gentlemen's Agreement was established in 1906 is estimated at 54,000, whereas the estimates from the census bureau and other sources indicate that the population is 150,000. Not only have adult males been brought here from Japan, but picture brides have come in large numbers, most of them having from five to eight children. Many thousands of such brides have been admitted and in addition over two thousand picture bride brides reached San Francisco and Seattle in one year.

At the present time, it is announced in dispatches that 6000 Japanese are waiting for steamer transportation to San Francisco before July 1, when the exclusion feature of the immigration bill is expected to take effect.

The state of California and others in the west are strongly opposed to any continuance of the Gentlemen's Agreement which has proved a complete failure by permitting Japan to do as she pleases in sending her immigrants into the territory of Hawaii. As a result of the rapid increase in the number of Japanese in that territory, it is estimated that in 1924 they will form a majority of the population.

Congress may be excused for its refusal to surrender the indubitable right of this country to say what immigrants will enter from Japan or any other country. Under the arrangement at present enforced, we are obliged to accept anyone who comes here with a Japanese passport, unless he be afflicted with disease. No other nation is granted any such privilege and hence, it is evident that in passing the exclusion act, congress is asserting the right of this country to say who shall or shall not come here and to exclude the nationals of any country who are not assimilated to our American citizenship. The question is one that must be settled either now or later and the sooner the better.

Congress stands upon solid ground in favor of the exclusion act and we do not believe that President Coolidge will see any reason for exercising the veto power in this case, despite the fact that Secretary Hughes favored a continuance of the Gentlemen's Agreement for diplomatic reasons. Japan, of course, has shown ill temper over the prospect of having her immigrants excluded; but it is time that a proper understanding should be reached between the two nations. The Gentlemen's Agreement was not intended to be as elastic as to admit any number of immigrants Japan wishes to send here. Yet that is the Japanese idea of it. This time has arrived to set a bar against the immigration from the Far East as congress proposes.

IMPORTS OF COTTON CLOTHS

Much has been said in regard to the effect of cotton cloth imports upon the textile industry of New England. It

A Thought

The fruit derived from labor in the sweetest of pleasures—Nauvauvauvau.

Starting Way Back

Counsel on both sides had been allowed 15 minutes each for argument. Accordingly the attorney for the plaintiff took a long breath, pulled out his chest and began: "At the fall of Babylon—" "Just a minute," interrupted the judge. "If you are going to start that far back maybe I had better allow you 20 minutes."

Were Home Made

A Tarrar citizen bought a pool of barley, preferred a large hanknote in payment, and got back a peck of smaller notes in exchange. These were so small and trim as to attract his attention. He examined one or two with approval and remarked to the dealer: "Your government is turning out better money." "No," I printed that myself."

Very Sad Story

This is rather a sad story, so let my gentle reader prepare to shed a silent tear. Even those who do not come under the category of "gentle" may well pause awhile and ponder on the moral. It concerns two boys who, after waiting for months for a fight that would bring them into the limelight, each got his chance and each got beaten. After their fights they compared notes. "Turn things," said one, "I got a head and now I'm bleated if I can get about." "Same here," replied the other gloomily. "I got a round and now, dash me, if I think I'll ever be able to get around again!"

After the Bob

Jimmy is a future capitalist. At the age of 7 he doesn't let anything escape him that is likely to yield its quota of hard cash. The other evening Jimmy's mother was settling her half down for a good read when she saw her small son stride over to the window, seize the kitten that was doing on the ledge and, swinging it about by its tail, give it a vigorous shaking. "Jimmy, Jimmy! Stop that at once," she cried, and, making a grab at the kitten, reached it from his tormentor. "What do you mean by being so cruel to the poor little thing?" she demanded. "I wasn't cruel," said Jimmy. "When dad was playing cards last night I heard him say, 'Now, boys, there's at least five bob in the kitty, and—well, I was trying to shake it out.'"

High School Mean

Oh, boy! Oh, boy! If we were only young again! And going to Lowell high school! And eating butterfly salad! That cost only 10 cents per butterfly! Genuine butterfly salad! With pineapple cutlets dripping sweet.

On today's new menu for young America.

In the high school dining room, together with appetizers and delicacies in other delicious offerings. Such as real sliced tomatoes. For only a nickel-per-slice! Fruit, tapian, also served. And best of all, for a dime! Lamb fricasse is served. Vegetable soup back to "have." Menu that catches the eye. For quality, price and taste. And last, but not least, on the Viennese list is the luscious: The fresh apple pie.

Oh, Let Me See Old Ireland

Oh, let me see old Ireland, the fairest land I know. Long to see my Ireland and her lovely fields of green. To breathe again her mountain air, the fragrance of her flowers. And see the dear old schoolhouse where I spent my childhood hours.

Her lakes of shimmering beauty, dear old land I faintly recall. Or watch the lovely willowflowers that grow on hill and vale. There the bluest and the daisies and the violets can be seen. Ah! I'd gladly kiss her cherished plant, the little shamrock green.

I'd roam through ancient bays and bays and old and new castles. I'd watch the steady ships sailing gently in the breeze. I'd walk my way to Ramen's tomb and place a wreath thereon. And breathe a prayer in silence for each noble hearted son.

Oh, let me see my loved ones. All how happy I would be. Just to kiss them and caress them—I'd surely dance with girls and boys. It is there you'll find the true hearts, there the bright smiles can be seen.

Oh, let me see old Ireland, again a nation free!

—MARY T. KELLEY.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

What promise to be the bluest and most successful social host of the Lowell evening scene was given the early days of the year with the opening here Saturday night when Lowell post, American legion, will conduct a string party at the Elks club, 120½ street.

The use of the Elks room and kitchen on the third floor of the building has been turned over to the vets and all arrangements are complete for a real time.

Invited guests are the elements of the post, which "Tom" Garrity and Henry Sullivan have arranged. There will be banquets, lectures, speeches by war time leaders and poets and poets such as George Edwards and John A. Fawcett, who will be invited to give a few words.

It is expected that the hall will be packed to capacity and the service team will have no time to spare.

Will have a opportunity to "make out" Sunday night and participate in the big time as well as march with their former comrades in arms on Memorial Day.

City Auditor Daniel B. Martin tells me that the city would save $11,000 by cutting the year and that from this sum $22,000 would be three quarters of the way and that the city would save $11,000. The difference was spent for feeding the horses and incidentals.

The holded hair man, said by some to be on the wane, appears to my observation to be gaining in popularity, especially at night. It is remarkable the changes that a different collocation makes in the appearance of a woman. With some there is a marked im-

DAY by DAY

On Saturday a man will rise and eat; then rush away. He's really glad to his himself to work. No wonder, when you realize that coming is his pay upon the day he's never known to shirk.

On Sunday morn a man will wake; with Father Time he'll jest—the day when work and office are no worry. In rising, lots of time he'll take for 'tis his day of rest; there isn't any rush or run or hurry.

On Monday morn, alas, alack, 'tis hard to rise from bed. A man must force himself to make the grade. 'Tis just a case of have to, though, when all is done and said, 'cause slowing up for work is why he's paid.

The other days the week brings 'round are mentioned all in one, 'cause every one is patterned after Monday. 'Tis work away, with little pay, until the work is done. But, best of all, they're leading up to Sunday.

With life, it seems, we always will the same old story sing. For man considers every day by what that day will bring.

Tom Sims Says

Perhaps it is time to change an old saying to, "He who dances must pay the bootlegger."

They are having a big miner strike in the Ruhr, so it may be our annual miner strike just visiting them.

Hagerstown (Md.) butcher posted the names of those who owed him, but if all butchers did this it would cause a paper shortage.

Arizona editor refused to pay a $500 fine. It does seem hard, but an editor could make it back in a few years.

Lucky for a French airplane it carried a ton and a half of gold without falling down on the job.

Estimates show 100,000 men will be needed in the wheat belt. What a pity harvesting wheat can't be made as popular as golf.

Even being a host man is dangerous. Bridgman failed to show up at Fall River, Mass., so the best man was substituted.

Now some of the old-fashioned girls are wearing their hair bobbed instead of shingled.

The annual fish lie about having to stand behind a tree to bait your hook is being the rounds.

Russia claims Germany owes her an apology, so Germany may demand a longer time in which to pay it.

Improvement with others it is as if some hoodlum had backed the frame of a beautiful picture. With some women it accentuates lines and hardens, with others it seems to erase the markings of Father Time. Each case in itself seems different, so we will have to let each one of the girls write their own ticket.

Fall River textile workers and manufacturers have started the ball rolling in favor of a "National Cotton Goods Week." This suggestion should be looked upon in a kindly way by the manufacturers of New England and if all get together and see such a program is properly exploited it couldn't help to do considerable good.

Fred Cummings, counsel for the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company, hasn't forgotten the city hall covering council meetings, public hearings and the like. He made that plain during the course of the hearing Tuesday night, when he spoke freely of seven years of service in keeping the Lowell public informed as to the doings of the city fathers. Fred has forgotten, it would appear, however, a pledge he must have made in those days. I know of no newspaperman who after a long exposure in such a line has not pledged himself privately that should he ever become a city father or a speaker before them, he would be brief. Anyone who lingers long and conscientiously in recording the news for the public is inclined to favor brevity of speech.

Fred Cummings, in fairness, would probably admit he once so promised. It is he would if he cared to peep into the intimate intricate workings of his versatile mind. But Fred must have forgotten it Tuesday night. When he arose in told of his efforts, he had in those few words carved a niche for himself in their hearts.

Only Larry Cummings, dean of them all, was cynical. The others thought to themselves "Here at last there has come among us one who realizes what a life we have and is charitable." Larry was probably thinking that if his namesake was really charitable he'd have a neatly typed copy of his remarks in his pockets. The speaker became so enamored of Fred Cummings, whom he had met, that he forgot his promise to be brief and stretched the few minutes into twenty-five but that was not quite so bad as some of the speakers on the opposite side. Fred gave some hard facts and indirectly hard knocks and after hearing such a arraignment of his company and the trustees, who could blame him. It would be difficult to fault the sentiment of the council in regard to the whole matter.

(Special to The Sun)

BOSTON, May 22.—Civil service examinations for appointment as police officer are to be conducted by the state civil service department June 21 and 22, the former date being for those who desire appointment outside of Boston and the metropolitan district, and the latter for those who want to get on one of the forces in or around Boston.

For the outside forces, applicants must not be less than 5 feet 7 inches in height and must weigh not less than 135 pounds without clothing. They must be not less than 21 nor more than 40 years of age when filing an application for examination, except that in cities which have provided pension systems for civil police officers, the maximum age is 35 years.

Applicants for the Boston or metropolitan police must be not less than 5 feet 6 inches in height, not less than 135 pounds in weight, and between the ages of 25 and 35. In addition, applicants for the metropolitan police must be able to swim.

On June 14, the department will conduct an examination of applicants for the position of investigator in the department of industrial accidents, with a salary ranging from $1630 to $2160 per year. This examination is open to both men and women. Applicants should be not less than 30 years of age and should have had a high school education or its equivalent. It is also desirable that applicants have at least five years' experience as a newspaper reporter or equivalent practice in investigation and reporting facts, and have a knowledge of the workmen's compensation act and basic decisions.

The examination will include questions to determine the applicant's training and experience, knowledge of the workmen's compensation law and the duties of the position, and personality and fitness. A mark of 65 per cent in one hour of questions will be required.

On June 15 the department will conduct an examination for the position of instructor in cloth making, in the service of the department of correction at the Massachusetts reformatory. This position will pay $1300 per year. The duties include supervision of inmates of the institution on the carding machines and instruction in the proper methods of operating the machines.

The same day there will be examinations to fill 15 vacancies as blitzer just inspector in the department of agriculture, carrying salaries of $4 to $2500 per day for a period of 6 months. The work of a blitzer just inspector involves the handling of assistance to local property owners in the protection of areas of white pine against the attack of the fungous disease known as the white pine blister rust. Applicants should have a knowledge of the disease and methods of preventing its further spread.

In all of the examinations, preference will be given, under the law, to veterans of the world war. Only citizens of the United States who have lived in Massachusetts for the past year are entitled to be examined, and they only upon obtaining from the department of the state house, or from its local representative in each of the larger cities, an application blank which must be filled out and filed at least 10 days before the date of examination.

POPPY DAY FOR FOREIGN WAR VETS SATURDAY

"Buddy Poppy Day" Saturday next. In many cities and towns all over the United States and the island possessions, poppies, emblems of glorious deeds in the World war, are to be sold in public thoroughfares all day, May 24, to aid the relief and welfare enterprises of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Active members of the Lowell branch organization, Walker-Rogers post No. 662, V. of F. W., have full charge of the relief drive here. Its proximity to Memorial day is intentional and offers to the people of Lowell and vicinity an opportunity to express their gratitude for the soldiers who fought and sacrificed in the great struggle to save the world.

All funds collected through public channels of giving goes to the relief of disabled veterans, whether members of the various veteran organizations or not. The post invites girls over 16 years of age, having an interest in the welfare of the American war veterans, to report at Memorial hall, City library building, at 7 a. m. or soon afterward, on Saturday, May 24, to receive poppies and boxes. Carroll L. Pinkree is chairman of the poppy day committee here.

The slogan for "Buddy Poppy Day" Saturday, under which the veterans of Walker-Rogers post No. 662 are working in the cause of fund-collecting for well-organized relief work, is: "Honor the Dead by Helping the Living—Buy and Wear a V. F. W. Poppy on Memorial Day."

The Flanders poppy is now recognized as the memorial flower in the United States by the American War Mothers, Daughters of the Revolution, Sons of the U. S. A., Daughters of the U. S. A., Women's Relief Corps, American Legion, American Legion auxiliary. In England, the British Legion adopted the poppy as its memorial flower emblem. In Canada, the Disabled Soldiers' association and the Great War Veterans' association in the United States have adopted the poppy as its memorial flower emblem. In Australia and New Zealand also have the poppy for emblematic rituals.

DECLARES COUNCIL CANNOT UNFROCK HIM

National Herald, a Greek newspaper published in the United States in the interests of the Greek-speaking race, announces that Metropolitan Vassilios, head of the metropolis of the United States and Canada, and whose headquarters are in this city, has been unfrocked by the council of archbishops of the patriarchate at Constantinople. The metropolitan is reported by the council to have removed from Greece without explaining his action to the patriarchate. He, however, declares that he resigned and that, therefore, the council cannot unfrock him. Metropolitan Vassilios is no longer under the jurisdiction of the Constantinople patriarchate, being now the absolute head of the Greek Orthodox church organizations in this country and Canada and subject to no dictates from other religious organization officials.

STRANGLER LEWIS WINS

Retains Heavyweight Wrestling Crown by Beating Gardini in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—The world's heavyweight wrestling crown still rests on the head of Ed "Strangler" Lewis, who last night turned back one of his most formidable challengers, Renato Gardini, champion of the Italian championship. After a man had scored one fall, Lewis took the third and deciding fall by default. Gardini having been so severely punished that he was unable to continue. Until the first fall, which went to Gardini after 25 minutes and 15 seconds, through a technical knockout, Lewis fought a purely defensive battle, following his opponent to wear himself down with heavy blows. The champion was able to get, second masterly strategy. When the men were in a deadlock, Gardini attempted a third fall, but Lewis was fresh.

Thomas Hennessy, owner of the Lowell Opera House, has commenced the work of refitting the old theatre after the disastrous fire of four months ago. The lobby will be in the same place as before the fire but new smoking and lounging rooms will be built, the box office enlarged, and hundreds of new seats installed. Many of the old seats, still serviceable, are being reupholstered. The dressing rooms back stage are to be remodeled and the entire plumbing and heating system is to be modernized. Mr. Hennessy said today he will be ready to open the house early in the fall. Several theatrical promoters are anxious to obtain a lease and Mr. Hennessy is inclined to favor reopening as a stock house. Work on refitting, remodeling and redecorating started this week and will require the remainder of the summer.

PLAINTIFF TESTIFIES IN ACCIDENT CASE

Mrs. Cecile Gray Johnston of Birmingham, Ala., one of the plaintiffs in the four-cornered tort action being tried in superior court here as result of a collision at Wilder and Pine streets last November between cars owned by the Yellow Cab Co. and Albert H. Evans, was the principal witness called at this morning's session. She was seriously injured in the accident while a passenger in the cab and sues both defendants for $10,000.

She testified at length to injuries received and the general condition of her health since the accident. She stated she has been subjected to several dental surgical operations and was practically helpless for a period of four months. She testified further that she had no advance knowledge of the collision and did not see the Evans car as her cab neared Wilder street. In reply to a question by her attorney, Albert S. Howard, Mrs. Johnston said the lights of the cab were lighted when the cab called for her at the Marlborough hotel on the evening of the accident.

In Mr. Howard's opening statement he told the court and jury he later will argue that the major portion of the blame for the accident rests upon Mr. Evans.

Dr. Marshall L. Ailing, surgeon and medical examiner, and Dr. Frederick L. Morris, both of whom attended Mrs. Johnston at the Lowell Corporation hospital, were other witnesses called today.

WALSH WARRANT NETS BIG HAUL OF BEER

Acting upon a warrant secured here yesterday from United States Commissioner Richard B. Walsh, Federal Agent J. Walter Bowers at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, raided the premises of Fred Marzani at 355 Common street, Lawrence, seizing four truckloads of beer, bottled and barreled, which were removed to Boston. The raid attracted a large crowd and several Lawrence policemen were required to keep the crowd at a respectful distance, while Mr. Bowers and his subordinates loaded the trucks. Fifty-nine barrels of beer and 205 cases of whiskey in all were seized.

Taxi Driver and Motorman In Court for Manslaughter

were held in bonds of $2000 each pending an inquest report. The taxi driver also faces a charge of operating in a manner to endanger the lives and safety of the public. The story told by Hicureux is that Desjardins hired a taxicab at the Middlesex street depot at 5.25 p. m., with instructions to be driven downtown. He wanted to catch a car for Lawrence. At the square it was found that the electric car had left and Desjardins then ordered the cab driver to follow it and overtake it if possible. The cab caught up to the car about a quarter of a mile beyond the old street car barns and Hicureux states that Desjardins opened the door and stood on the running board. The cab had pulled up so close to the tracks, however, that the electric struck it heavily and Desjardins was thrown under the wheels of the car. It was necessary to jack up the rear end of the car to free his body which was wedged under the forward guard of the rear truck.

Questioned at police headquarters, Hicureux said he did not realize his cab was so close to the car tracks and could not tell whether Desjardins was thrown from the running board or had jumped.

Motorman Gray reported the accident at police headquarters and told his story to Capt. Duncan. He said his car was traveling under full power when he noticed the taxicab pass him going in the same direction. When about 75 feet in front of the car, the cab swung in toward the rail and as he saw it he reversed his power and did his utmost to stop his car. The distance was too short, however, and it was impossible to stop the heavy car before it had passed a half a car length beyond the spot where the taxi stopped.

Desjardins was taken to St. John's hospital in a city ambulance but the staff doctors pronounced him dead and the body was taken to the rooms of Undertakers Regnier & Regnier in Button street. He was a resident of Lowell for some time, but moved to Lawrence about 18 months ago. He was a carpenter and is said to have secured work here on Tuesday.

CRIMM CALLED AT SENATE PROBE

Special Assistant to Attorney General Questioned by Senate Committee

Charges Neglect of Offices of U. S. District Attorneys Throughout Country

WASHINGTON, May 22.—John W. H. Crippin, special assistant to the attorney general, was questioned today by the senate judiciary committee regarding charges of neglect of offices of U. S. district attorneys throughout the country.

In a general discussion of the organization of the department of justice in which he was a supervising official before he took over the special detail of prosecuting the Veterans Bureau frauds, he declared there was "too much work being done in Washington by the department due to the neglect of the offices of the United States district attorneys out in the country."

"For instance, if there was a proper organization," he said, "they wouldn't need me at Chicago," he explained. "I found that in the fiscal year 1922 they tried 22 jury cases."

"That meant inefficient administration," asked chairman Chandler. "That meant inefficient administration," Mr. Crippin returned. "I tried to remedy it. There has been considerable improvement since. It took a good long time to get a change."

The chairman asked why progress had been so slow and the witness replied that members of congress had of the political organizations and finally the president had to be considered.

MINNARY-HAUGEN BILL AGAIN BEFORE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The Minnary-Haugen farm relief bill was again before the house today and leaders were somewhat at sea as to the probable fate of the measure. Some supporters of the bill said votes were in sight to insure passage while others were skeptical. On the other hand, some opponents were confident that the proposal could be defeated, and others were not.

Generally, leaders admitted inability to make accurate forecasts due to the large number of members who have declined to commit themselves. The result it was predicted, would be determined by a last minute lineup.

It is expected he will also see former Premier Briand, who is arriving in Paris today. Afterward, he will return to Lyons to remain until the end of the month.

The radical chief is resisting all the attempts of the interviewers to extract from him information regarding his plans toward the premier's visit.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 22.—Stock prices continued to move upward at the opening of today's market in further reflection of the progress being made towards the adoption of a tax reduction measure. U. S. Rubber and Continental, which have been under pressure lately, rallied a point each and there was a brisk demand for the oil shares, most of which improved fractionally.

Prices continued to move upward with the buying embracing the more active, sugar, cotton and a number of specialties. Atlantic Refining assumed the leadership of the all group with a gain of four points while gains of a point or so were recorded by American Can, West-Vernon, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Maxwell A. D. S. East Iron Pipe, American Sugar Refining, Northern Pacific and Norfolk & Western. "Nickel Plate" advanced 2 1/2 to 50 1/2, a high. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

Speculative interest ran almost entirely to the industrial section of the list in the afternoon. Yesterday's net list being a net loss of $2,250,000. The market was fairly active, but not making about the only movement of consequence in that quarter being a rise in Peru Marquette to 14 1/2, a new high for the year. Stewart-Warner, which had advanced 1/2 to 10 1/2, while Virginia Iron, Coal & Coke broke five points to 36, a new low on an unusually active dealing.

Hugency of trading continued unabated, but the market and other industrial leaders reaching new highs on the movement. Reports of increased automobile orders this morning prompted a more confident tone in the motor group, and gains of a point or so were scored by Hudebaker, Chandler, Willys-Overland, common and preferred, Hudson, Jordan, Mop and the leading accessory issues, including Stewart-Warner and Stromberg. Rubber shares continued to lose. Preferred falling back 1 1/2 points to a new 1924 low at 6 1/2, and the rise in "Nickel Plate" was counteracted by a decline of almost a point in preferred stock. All money opened at 3 percent.

AD CLUB TOLD MILLS MUST TRADE-MARK AND ADVERTISE GOODS

Purchasing Public Favors Quality Goods of Known Reputation Regardless of Price, Says John J. Morgan—Retiring President Cooney Presented Watch

The cotton goods mills of Lowell and New England will come to later years the road to prosperity is by proper explanation through advertising of their trade-mark goods of quality. This business public has long ago been proven, does not consider price. That other mills can make goods a few cents cheaper per yard than can the great mills of New England is not worthy of the deep thought that is lavished upon it. The buying American public wants goods of known name and merit.

So John J. Morgan, head of the advertising agency which bears his name, told the members of the Lowell Advertising club which met for dinner at the Y.M.C.A. last night. "We of New England need more outgoing optimism and less inward-looking conservatism," he added. Mr. Morgan said he is convinced that the mills of New England should retail their output direct through mail orders and chain stores and cut down the present convoluted system of distribution under which many commissions are claimed on every piece of cotton goods before it reaches the ultimate consumer. The speaker cited the success of the Wamsutter Mills in New Bedford in keeping their showings in the foreground through an educational advertising campaign and said local mill treasurers might well tear a leaf from the book of Treasurer Charles Broughton of the Wamsutter in this respect.

Watch Given Mr. Cooney

Last night's session was the most enthusiastic and best attended meeting since the souvenir dinner, the banquet of every year. The new officers of the retiring president, John J. Morgan, were presented with a watch as a token of esteem and appreciation for his services. Mr. Cooney was to graciously overcome that in response his speech did not come as freely as usual.

The presentation was made by Councilor John W. Daly, vice president of the organization. Mr. Cooney, retiring president, Mr. Daly handed the service record of Mr. Cooney.

OFFICER QUALIFIES AS SPEED MERCHANT

Police Officer Charles J. Barry qualified as a speed merchant early this morning when he gave chase and captured Peter S. Marshall, 22, and hooked him at the station as a suspicious person after a scintillating pursuit over a course which took in Bridge, Amory, John, French, Kirk and Lee streets. The capture of Marshall evinced in changing the charge of "suspicious person" to one of larceny, when George Morris, a roomer at 94 Bridge street, appeared in the station not long after Marshall's apprehension and charged him with the theft of $40. A plea of no guilt to this complaint was entered this morning, and the case continued to next Monday, with bonds set at $200.

The miniature marathon started at 2:30 a. m. when Officer Barry's attention was attracted to a man making a hasty exit from the brick block on Bridge street. The fleeing individual banged the door of the block so hard that the officer thought someone had crashed through plate glass.

Following Marshall as he rounded the corner of French street, the officer gave chase, following the fugitive through Amory, Lee, Kirk and back to John street, where the catch was made. As Marshall sought to escape, Officer Barry locked him up as a suspicious person.

About 3:15 a. m. George Morris put in an appearance at headquarters with the information that he had been robbed of two $20 bills while preparing to go to bed. His description of the alleged thief corresponded with Marshall, and Officer Barry was dispatched for identification. He was immediately recognized by Morris, who said Marshall snatched the bills from his bed just as he had undressed and about to retire. He added that he had been in Marshall's company since 10 o'clock the night before and did not suspect him of thievery when he showed him the two bills.

At the police station Officer Thomas Riley and Charles Sharkey searched defendant, but failed to find any money.

The lot with its area and splendid frontage has most unusual advantages for the real estate developer, the opportunity to subdivide into home plots, or develop as a modern manufacturing site owing to its accessibility to the main line of the Southern Division of the Boston & Maine is ideal; its location, surrounded by high grade homes, within short distance of industry, directly on the Middlesex Street, South Chelmsford and Tynemouth car line, and the fact that there is no such demand, and that building operations in Lowell never were as great as at present, make this sale of extraordinary importance, and should strongly appeal to builders, speculators and investors, as rarely, if ever, is the chance given to purchase such a large parcel, with such environment, and more particularly at such a low price.

Terms: $100 must be deposited or secured with the auctioneer just as soon as the property is struck off; other terms at sale.

SQUABBLE ARISES OVER THE MAJOR'S COMMISSION

WILL MEET DARTMOUTH COLLEGE IN DEBATE

The climax of the debating season at the local high school will be reached tomorrow evening in Auburn hall, when the Dartmouth college freshmen debating team opposes a team representing the Frederick T. Greenhalge Debating society of the local school.

This debate marks the first time in the history of the school that a college debating society team has opposed the high school team members of the local team, assisted by several members of the school faculty as coaches have worked steadily for several weeks preparing their arguments.

The subject of the debate is, "Resolved: That the United States should enter the world court with the Hughes provision." The team chosen to represent the high school consists of Alvin Aikin, president of the class of 1924; Merrill Collins, colonel of the regiment; and Richard Welch, one of the stars of the school play, "The Boomerang." Miss Frances Masterson is coach of the society.

Owing to the importance of this event, Headmaster Harris sought far and wide for judges who would be satisfactory both to the visitors and the home team and announced today that he had secured the services of the following: Professor Guy Ayron of the English department at Groton academy; Ira Winters, professor of oratory at Harvard university; and Rev. Thomas J. Quinn, S.J., professor of oratory at Boston college.

The Lowell Dartmouth club has evinced considerable interest in the debate and has reserved 150 seats in the hall for its members. Tickets have also sold very rapidly at the school and it is expected that the hall will be crowded to capacity long before the first speaker is announced.

SKILL IN HANDLING BIG LIGHTS OF GLASS

A demonstration of skill in handling large lights of plate glass was staged at the Ben Marché Dry Goods Co. yesterday.

Those who witnessed this exhibition of expert glazing were thrilled when the glass bent dangerously during the process of setting. The risk must be great in handling such large lights of plate glass, which are valued at $200 a piece, and being an inside setting, the job seemed all the more hazardous.

The glass was furnished and set by C. E. Coburn Co. Eight of the company's men, under the direction of Joseph Rowe, foreman glazier, lifted the massive plate glass into position. The heavy support, the weight of 65 pounds approximately 100 pounds.

It was necessary to have a special permit from the Boston police department to carry the glass through the streets of Boston.

opinion it was not necessary in this part of the state, at least, for all cities with a radius of 40 miles of this city use the same type coupling and apparatus from any city in this area can be used in any other city without the necessity of changing over couplings.

The thread used on couplings and hydrants in this district is known as the "Boxbury" thread. The new law provides that the national standard is just half a thread longer than the Roxbury thread.

The Fire Chiefs club of this state has purchased, at an expense of $2500, a set of taps and dies which are to be used to change over present hose couplings and hydrants to the new standard. This apparatus will be sent in the club and used, under the direction of an expert, in making the necessary changes. This equipment will be used in this city and Chief Saunders estimates that labor costs in connection with the work of changing the threads will amount to between $2000 and $3000.

LOWELL MEN HONORED THE BOOSTER BULLETIN AT WORCESTER MEETING

Lowell was signally honored yesterday, at the annual convention of Massachusetts state chamber of commerce, held in Hotel Bancroft, Worcester, with more than 300 delegates representing every chamber organization in the state, present to participate in important discussions conducive to the welfare and prosperity of the old Bay State.

Next came a long congratulatory letter from President Calvin Coolidge, which was read and roundly cheered. The principal speaker after the governor's address, was Hon. Frank G. Allen of the Massachusetts senate, who eulogized the Cox administration.
